

LIVELY SESSION OF ASSEMBLY PREDICTED AS LEGISLATORS WAIT FOR FALL OF GAVEL

Railway Shopmen to Go on Strike July 1

LAST ULTIMATUM SENT EXECUTIVES BY UNION LEADER

Unless Executives Abrogate $60,000,000 Wage Cut, Walkout Is Declared Certain.

400,000 RAIL WORKERS INCLUDED IN STRIKE

Decision to Call Strike Is Made Late Tuesday, Based on Ballots of Union Membership.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Chicago, June 27.—A strike of the 400,000 railway shopmen of the country will be called for July 1 unless the railroads agree to stay the $60,000,000 wage cut due the shop workers on that date and to restore certain working conditions formerly in effect, it was made known tonight through a telegram from B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts, to the association of railway executives.

Decision to call a strike came late today after lengthy discussion by the executive committee of the six shop crafts unions, based on the strike vote of the men thus far tabulated. The committee left but one loophole to avoid the strike. If the railroads arrange an immediate conference agreeing to continue the present wages, restore working rules modified by the railroad labor board and discontinue farming out railroad work, a walkout can be halted, the telegram said. Otherwise a "skeleton" of workmen drawn from employment on July 1, 1922, as voted by the employees, will be unavoidable.

Lengthy Telegram.
The 2,500 word telegram addressed to T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the association of railway executives, threw no light on the actual strike vote beyond saying it was an "overwhelming majority." Ballots still were coming in, it was said, as they were not returnable until June 30. A two-thirds majority is required by the union by-laws to call a strike.

Men Responsible.
The union heads who will frame the strike call, if the proposed conference cannot be consummated, are: William H. Johnston, International Association of Machinists; J. W. Kline, International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers of America; J. A. Franklin, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders and Helpers of America; J. J. Hayes, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers International Alliance; James P. Noonan, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Martin F. Ryan, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America.

Declaring the railroads have acted on a common program to reduce wages and obtain other advantages to the carriers, President Jewell's message pointing "one benefit which may come to the carriers and their employees, and to the general public from the fact that there are national spokesmen of the conflicting interests who might be able to halt a nation-wide withdrawal of men from employment in the railway service if the railway executives sincerely desired to avoid this consequence of their previous course of action."

"For this reason," the telegram said, "in behalf of and by the authority of the executive council of the railway employees department, I am informing you and through you informing the responsible heads of the various railway systems in the United States, and also the Pullman company, most of which are represented in the association of railway executives, that unless an immediate arrangement can be made:

With Ears Cut Off, Plumber Is Found, But Can't Explain

New Brunswick, N. J., June 27. Austin Bailey, a plumber, was found by police today sitting on a curb with both his ears cut off. At St. Peter's hospital Bailey, who was said to be intoxicated, was unable to tell how he had lost his ears, declaring he could not remember anything up to the time he was found.

MRS. HAYS MADE NATIONAL OFFICER OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Georgia Clubwoman Nominated Tuesday and Will Have No Opposition at Chautauqua.

RENAME MRS. WINTER NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Georgia Delegation's Movie Resolution Is Passed by Clubwomen of United States.

BY LOUISE DOOLY.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.
Chautauqua, N. Y., June 27.—Mrs. J. E. Hays, of Georgia, was nominated Tuesday by the General Federation of Women's Clubs for recording secretary, with no opposition. Nominations for re-election were: Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, for president, and Mrs. W. S. Jennings, of Florida, first vice president. Mrs. Wallace T. Perham, of Montana, is nominee for second vice president, and Mrs. Florence C. Floore, of Texas, treasurer.

The election takes place Thursday. No candidate has opposition. All general federation directors are elected by their states, their election confirmed by the convention. Mrs. Samuel M. Inman's election from Georgia will be confirmed at the convention polls Thursday.

The most spectacular event of the convention, state presidents' night, was featured Tuesday by a procession of state presidents, with appropriate music and many flowers. Each president illustrated the general subject, "Women as a Working Power," in a two-minute address on the principal achievement of her federation since the last biennial.

Mrs. Hays Speaks.
In the public welfare conference on the federation's relations with penal institutions, Tuesday, Mrs. A. J. Strickland, of Valdosta, Ga., federation chairman for jails, reported on the cleaning up of county jails in Georgia. This report was called for as a model by the chairman of the meeting, who is secretary to the national commission on prisons and prison labor and a clubwoman.

VOTE TO CONDEMN GRANT PARK SITE FOR GIRLS' HIGH

Bond Commission Unanimous for Condemnation as Last Resort to Secure Site.

SCHOOLS COMMITTEE FAVORS SUCH ACTION

"I'd Rather Raise Girls Than Squirrels," Judge John S. Candler Tells Committee.

Condemnation proceedings to obtain 10 acres of the north end of Grant park as the site for the new girls' high school, was unanimously favored at a meeting of the bond commission Tuesday afternoon, and it was recommended that this course of action be adopted unless the land can be obtained by negotiation.

An exchange of property will first be sought, and the commissioners approved suggested terms which they declare ought to satisfy everybody concerned.

The high school discussion came up on a report from the commission's school committee recommending that the desired tract be condemned without an offer of reparation. The report had passed in committee by a close vote after a warm session. Commissioner Lee Ashcraft made a speech against arbitrary seizure of public park space and offered an amendment recommending that city council set aside $42,500 of bond proceeds for the purchase of 21 acres at the south end of Grant park and deed it as park property in return for the 10 acres wanted within the present reservation.

Some High Totals.
His amendment satisfied the minority on the school committee voting against condemnation, and the amended report was adopted by unanimous vote of the full commission.

The commission non-concurred in the board of education's recommendation that a tract of approximately seven acres at Lee and Beecher streets be purchased as a junior high school site. The price was $67,000. The body approved the board's choice of a lot at Windsor and Cooper streets on which to build the Formwalt school replacement, and a lot for a new Summer Hill school for negroes near the present location. Proposed purchase price of the Formwalt site is $28,575, and of the Summer Hill location $44,240.

In the debate over the girls' high school site, the school committee was divided. The action of the board of education in recommending the site at Lee and Beecher streets was a surprise, no intimation having been given before that the officers were in any way involved in the rioting except in quelling the disorder.

INDICT POLICEMEN FOR RIOT KILLING

Grand Jury Holds Officers Guilty of Murder in A. B. & A. Riot Here.

Following an investigation of the riot at the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic yards, at Bellwood, on May 7, the Fulton county grand jury Tuesday returned a true bill charging A. B. Niles and W. S. Morgan, members of the Atlanta police force, with the murder of Albert Everett, a negro. Indictments charging rioting which, under the Georgia law, is a misdemeanor, were returned against Kelley Bailey, L. D. Bailey, V. T. Moon and Cliff Garner. These men threw rocks during the riot, it was charged. The clash resulted in the death of Everett and serious injury to several others.

According to the testimony given before the grand jury by a large number of witnesses, it was stated, the policemen shot Everett after he had fallen to the ground in a crouch with another man, and made no effort to first arrest the negro.

Over fifty witnesses were examined by the jury in the investigation of the case, which consumed four days. The action of the grand jury in returning the indictments against the two policemen came as a distinct surprise, no intimation having been given before that the officers were in any way involved in the rioting except in quelling the disorder.

They were placed under arrest and, upon orders from Judge E. T. Shurley, were held in custody of the sheriff without the confines of the jail pending an application for bail, which will be heard by Judge Shurley at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

At this hearing, it is reported, the officers will set out that there was promiscuous firing during the riot and that they did nothing during the disorder that was not within the scope of their duties as policemen. They will explicitly deny the charge that they shot the negro Everett without attempting to place him under arrest.

GEORGIA SHERIFFS WILL MEET TODAY TO DISCUSS FEES

Members of the Georgia Sheriffs' association will meet at 10 o'clock Wednesday in the office of Sheriff J. I. Lowry, of Fulton county, to discuss legislation relative to fees which will come up before the legislature for passage. Other important business in connection with the office of sheriff of each county will be discussed.

Wednesday afternoon the sheriffs will enjoy a barbecue at Lakewood park. Members of the two branches of the legislature and Governor Hardwick have been invited to attend the barbecue which will be given Wednesday afternoon after the legislature has adjourned.

FINISH ANALYSIS OF SAGGUS ORGANS

Completion of the analysis of the viscera of Mrs. Mary Walker Saggus, first wife of Dr. J. G. Saggus, Wilkes county physician, who is being held on double charges of murder in connection with the death of his wife and Charles W. Wilbanks, was announced Tuesday by Dr. Edgar Everhart, assistant to the state chemist. The report of Dr. Everhart will be forwarded Wednesday to the clerk of the Wilkes superior court.

At the same time Dr. Everhart will enclose a report of examination made of certain vital organs of C. W. Wilbanks, deceased husband of the present Mrs. Saggus, which were delivered to the physician last week.

Whether either of the bodies contained strychnine poisoning has been alleged. Dr. Everhart declined to state, until the report is received by the Wilkes county authorities.

E. R. WOOD IS DEAD FROM AUTO CRASH

Was Fatally Hurt When Car Turned Over on Lawrenceville Road—Others Were Slightly Injured.

Injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Tucker, on the Lawrenceville road Tuesday morning, proved fatal to Edwin R. Wood, of Decatur. He died at St. Joseph's infirmary at 10:35 o'clock last night. Four other occupants of the car sustained minor injuries.

The accident occurred when Mr. Wood, driving his heavy touring car, turned out of the road upon meeting another automobile. His steering apparatus broke, causing him to lose control of the machine, which turned turtle and landed in a ditch.

The other car continued on its way, the occupants apparently unaware of the accident. The steering post of Mr. Wood's car was thrust into his side as the machine turned over and pinned him and other occupants beneath it.

With Mr. Wood in the car were his sister, Mrs. G. K. Christian, also of 225 East Ponce de Leon avenue, who likewise was taken to the St. Joseph's infirmary, suffering from shock and serious bruises; Willard and Rosalind Christian, children, Mrs. J. H. Goss, Jr., 225 East Ponce de Leon avenue, and Little Lucy Goss. Rosalind Christian suffered a broken arm and all of the others were only slightly injured.

Rescue was effected by passengers in another automobile, which came by shortly after the accident, and who rushed the victims to the hospital.

Mrs. Goss is the wife of a prominent Decatur physician. Mr. Wood, aged 57 years, was a substantial citizen of Decatur, equally well known in Atlanta, also in Americus, near which city he owned an extensive pecan grove.

HARDING CABINET, DISSENSION RENT, NEARING SHAKE-UP

Sensational Upheaval in Administration Family Expected Latter Part of Present Week.

"MIRE OF JEALOUSY" AMONG CABINET MEN

Startling Resignations, Including Secretary Wallace Predicted to Follow Brown Reorganization Plan.

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.
Washington, June 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—An upheaval in the cabinet is looked for the latter part of this week when President Harding, before leaving for Marion, Ohio, Friday, is expected to make an important announcement concerning the details of the Brown plan for the reorganization of the various departments of the government.

It has been known for some time that the president has ordered an investigation into the affairs of the different government departments, assigning Walter F. Brown to make a special investigation into the advisability of co-ordinating and changing certain bureaus and divisions. Announcement of the president's step immediately created what has often been described as a "mire of discord and jealousy" among cabinet heads, all of whom opposed any change in their respective departments, and most of whom were covetous of certain functions of other officials.

Those on the inside say that when the details of the Brown plan are made known the long brewing row in the administration's official family will break out in spectacular fashion, with the likelihood of sensational resignations following. Reliable reports are to the effect that President Harding will publicly disclose the recommendations contained in the report, and will give them his official sanction. In this event the lid to the family fight will be lifted, and the true facts will be brought to the open for the first time.

Fall-Wallace Row.
One of the most outstanding controversies existing in the president's cabinet is between Secretary Fall, of the interior department, and Secretary Wallace, of the department of agriculture. The prevailing impression at the capital is that the secretary of agriculture has lost out in his right.

HOWARD EXPECTED TO ENTER RACE

Muscogee Supporters Confident He Will Announce for Governor Before Friday Night.

Columbus, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—Judge G. H. Howard, former judge of the Chattahoochee circuit and campaign manager for Governor Thomas W. Hardwick in the last election, may enter the race for governor, he announced tonight. He will reach a definite decision before Friday night. His strongest supporters here stated that they were confident he will announce.

Judge Howard arrived in Columbus today from Atlanta to hold a conference with friends relative to his entrance into the race. At the conclusion of a long meeting at the Raleigh hotel, he stated that a large number of telegrams from all sections of the state urging him to make his announcement had caused him to take the matter under serious consideration.

For Road Bonds.
"I am in the hands of my friends," he said. "If they want me governor and insist that I enter the race I will do so in the next few days. I am interested mainly in good roads and am willing to do anything in my power to further the interests of Georgia's highways by aiding efforts."

TAX COMMITTEE TO ADVISE AGAINST INCOME TAX PLAN

Clay and Neill Both Expect Many Sharp Fights to Develop This Year.

NEILL WILL ADVOCATE PRIMARY LAW CHANGE

Committee Appointments Announced—Administration Will Be Criticized.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.
With important legislation covering a wide field on the program and with several proposed legislative investigations before it, the general assembly of Georgia will be convened at the capitol at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and immediately after the two branches go into session the work for 1922 will be taken up.

Senator Herbert Clay, of Cobb county, president of the senate, and W. Cecil Neill, of Muscogee, speaker of the house, will serve in their old positions as presiding officers. It is expected that Governor Hardwick will appear before the legislature in joint session at noon and deliver his message to the body in person.

Oppose Income Tax.
The first interesting development of the 1922 session came Tuesday afternoon when the recess committee on taxation headed by Representative George Carswell, of Wilkinson, as chairman, voted to return an adverse report on the income tax as proposed by Governor Hardwick and others. The committee voted to recommend the adoption of the classification method of taxation in lieu of the present five mill tax.

At the session of the committee Tuesday afternoon strong objection was made to the adoption of the proposed income tax by various committee members. It is expected that a minority report will be adopted in which a 3 per cent income tax and a reduction of the five mill tax to four mills will be recommended.

The taxation committee was appointed at the last session and during the interval between that session and the present session the members studied the proposed income tax from all points of view. The laws of other states on the subject were examined and information concerning the operation of the tax was assembled from several states of the east and south.

Following is the report of the committee: "We, the joint tax committee of the house and senate make the following report: "The committee, after much inquiry and careful consideration, is of the opinion, and so reports to the general assembly, that an income tax as a substitute for the ad valorem tax, or in conjunction with an ad valorem tax, would be inopportune, inexpedient and unsatisfactory, and would only result in added burdens to the people of the state."

"The committee is of the further opinion, and so recommends to the general assembly, that any changes proposed at this time in the law on the subject of taxation should be to enact provisions for a reasonable classification of property for purposes of taxation, it being the belief of the committee that such a system would result in the voluntary disclosure of large amounts of intangible property not now on the books for taxation."

"Our construction of the resolution under which we act is that we have nothing to do with the bill now pending."

the looking for a repeal of the present tax equalization law.

All indications point to a busy session, with several stormy fights looming over important bills. One of the first moves to be made will be to bring about a repeal of the tax equalization law and this fight is expected to begin simultaneously in both houses, almost as soon as the legislature is organized for business.

Clay Forces Fight.

President Clay, of the senate, expects a session which will be constructive in many ways. He stated that there is a probability of several sharp fights coming up during the session, but said on the whole he expects much real business to be transacted.

Speaker Neill predicted also that the session will be a busy one from the start. He mentioned quite a number of measures and policies which will come up in the house and which will occupy much of the time of the legislature during the summer.

One of the most important matters to come before the legislature in the opinion of Speaker Neill, will be the bill providing for the adoption of the Australian ballot system throughout the state. The speaker declared that this system has been in force for years in the cities and has worked smoothly. He favors its adoption to cover the entire state. The speaker is the author of the Neill primary law, under which primary elections are held, and has long fought for the adoption of the Australian ballot system throughout the entire state.

Would Fix Entrance Date.

Another bill in connection with primary elections will be introduced which will provide that, if the date limit in which candidates may qualify for state offices be fixed by law in the same manner as the primary date is fixed. This measure will be introduced as a result of the recent action of the state democratic executive committee in closing the entire for state office on July 1, more than 75 days before the election. Mr. Neill, in discussing the bill, said he favored a law which will allow candidates to qualify for a race up to within 30 days of the date of the primary.

Announcement was made by Speaker Neill of the appointment of Dr. C. E. Kittrell of Laurens, on the committee on constitutional amendments, to succeed R. R. Nottingham, former representative from York county, who resigned. He will also provide committee assignments for Representative Blaine Van Zandt, of Fannin county, who was elected recently to succeed Ben S. West, of Blue Ridge; W. O. Boseman, of Sylvester, elected to succeed G. R. Nottingham, and C. W. Hillhouse, of Sylvester, elected to succeed the late Mark Tison, both from Worth county.

Bills to Come Up.

Among the legislative measures and policies which will come on this summer in the opinion of Speaker Neill are the following:

Tariff, including income tax proposed by Governor Hardwick.

Insurance of bonds for A. B. & A. railroad.

Insurance of bonds for an Atlantic port.

Attempt repeal of tax equalization law.

Question of abolition of fee system as applied to county officers of the larger counties of the state.

Capital renewal.

Legislation relating to prison system in Georgia, following report of the recent investigation.

Reorganization of the university system so far as relates to the management (proposed that boards of trustees be abolished and board of regents appointed).

Amendment of school code so as to divide state into county unit school system to absorb city systems.

Amendment of state banking law so as to place the banks more nearly on a parity with the national banks.

Consolidation of offices of tax collector and tax receiver of the counties.

Providing board of censors and otherwise regulating moving picture shows.

Hotel bill, to appoint a hotel inspector and otherwise regulate hotels and lodging houses.

Substitute electric chair for gallows.

Bill for regulation of pool and billiard parlors.

Bill to provide for establishment of free kindergartens in the public schools.

Bill for creating Peach county.

Efficiency Expert.

Reports were current Tuesday that a resolution will be introduced in the legislature soon which will make inquiry into the authority of the governor to import an efficiency expert from Chicago to make a survey of state departments. Governor Hardwick said Tuesday he would welcome such a resolution and said he would be glad to appear and explain anything in connection with the report of the efficiency expert.

Another report current was that the old fight on the state highway department will be revived. This fight was one of the prominent features of the session last year and resulted in an investigation being made of the department and its activities. In the report of the investigating committee the department was commended for the session last year and was praised for its work.

Chairman John N. Holder, of the state highway commission, stated Tuesday night he would welcome any investigation of his department by the legislature.

N. DAKOTA PRIMARY CENTERS INTEREST

Washington, June 27.—(By Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.)

Washington has turned its eyes temporarily from all matters legislative and is watching with keen interest the republican primaries in North Dakota Wednesday, where Senator Porter J. McCumber, chairman of the finance committee, author of the bonus bill, co-author of the tariff and sundry congressional measures, comes up for the test of his career.

His defeat, in the eyes of administration opponents and reactionary republicans, will be interpreted as a blow second only to the overthrow of Senator New in Indiana recently.

Opinions are not equally divided at the capital. The majority hold that the North Dakota senator and administration leader is in for a severe defeat. His chances for reelection, while not entirely gone are said to be so far advanced in that direction that nothing short of a miracle will describe his renomination.

Interesting Race.

The North Dakota primary from a number of angles is said to be the most interesting of any of the state primaries held thus far. McCumber is confronted with a strong non-partisan league opposition, which is supporting the recently recalled Governor Lynn Frazier, who by the same grace was elected, rejected, and re-elected as the organization leader. This element is described as the "against faction" of the state, and the policies of the Harding administration come in for their full share of the "against."

Second, and not least, in significance, is the construction to be placed on McCumber's participation in tariff and bonus legislation. In the event the finance committee chairman is defeated political observers will construe it as a repudiation, in some degree, if not entirely, of the high schedules in the tariff, together with certain political football tactics employed in connection with the bonus.

Senator Since 1898.

McCumber has been in the senate since 1898. By rule of seniority he has now advanced to what is in many respects the most powerful place in the senate, the chairmanship of the senate committee on finance. He has never been regarded as a great senator in any of the various degrees of greatness. He has always been held up as a conservative, able to wield an influence in his state because of the racial peculiarities there and the opportunities for personal organizations.

War. McCumber assured of retirement to private life he might lack interest in the tariff bill. This talk prevails, because the tariff bill has few friends in the executive branch of the government and as few friends among the republican senators from eastern states. A goodly number of republican senators would be pleased to find some excuse for getting rid of the tariff bill, and McCumber's defeat would serve as the excuse.

If McCumber should get over the primary hurdle he may have trouble in the general election. The Frazier element may announce an independent candidate immediately with the purpose of defeating both McCumber and non-partisan league supporters of McCumber. This might mean the election of a democrat from the state this year.

Jury Convicts Negro Charged With Murder In Byromville Riots

Vienna, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—The trial of LaVana West, one of the 14 negroes implicated in the Byromville riots of a year ago, when a white man was killed, came to an end this afternoon, when the jury, which had been out two days and a night, brought in a verdict of guilty with recommendation for mercy. Judge Cowley sentenced the negro to life imprisonment.

West, with other negroes, was tried and convicted on a charge of murder about a year ago and received a new trial on appeal to the supreme court. There are six negroes who have been convicted in the same case in jail here.

DOCTOR SENTENCED FOR SELLING DRUG

Dr. H. E. Pontius Pleads Guilty and Gets Eighteen Months in Federal Prison.

Dr. H. E. Pontius, well-known Atlanta physician, admitted violation of the Harrison anti-drug act Tuesday morning in federal court, and was sentenced by Judge W. I. Grubb to serve eighteen months in the federal penitentiary.

Dr. Pontius was charged with having illegally issued narcotic prescriptions to drug fiends, and with illegally selling a quantity of morphine. For each violation he was given eighteen months, but the sentences will run concurrently.

The physician formerly occupied a suite of offices at 102 Whitehall street.

A similar term of imprisonment must be served by Bessie O. Suttles, who was convicted on a charge of violating the narcotic act. He was arrested last February. He is alleged to have smuggled a supply of drugs into Atlanta from New Orleans.

After pleading guilty to violating the Harrison narcotic act and receiving a sentence of one year and a day, Raymond Oxford, a young Atlantan, withdrew his plea in federal court Tuesday and announced his intention of fighting the charge.

Narcotic inspectors allege that Oxford was apprehended while in the act of negotiating with another person for the sale of four ounces of powdered opium. It is also charged that he sold $18 worth of morphine.

MAY ENTER RACE

TO VOTE ON TAX ASSESSOR'S RACE

In order that he can be present next Monday to cast his vote in the expected hot race in council for city tax assessor, Councilman J. O. Wood is delaying a trip abroad.

The councilman was to have left Friday to set sail for England. He said Monday that both sides would accuse him of "running away" if he didn't stay and vote in the contest and he was going to stay and see the race through.

Councilman Wood plans to visit London, Paris, battle fields of the late war, Rome, and other European cities. He is going abroad on business for the Southern Publicity association of which he is an official.

The tax assessor's race is warm with J. N. Maloney a candidate, himself, and J. C. Little, of the third ward, reported to be running him close. Mr. Little declared Monday that he has never authorized any announcement of his candidacy but his friends, averted that he would accept if elected, and they were campaigning hard in his behalf.

Councilman Wood declined to say whom he would support for the office.

JUDGE G. H. HOWARD.

HOWARD EXPECTED TO ENTER RACE

to bring about a bond issue so as to enable the state to get vast sums of federal money, thus enabling small counties of the state to have an equal showing with the larger counties in this matter.

"If I can best promote this cause by being made governor, and my friends so determine, you may say I will be a candidate."

Judge Howard was met by a large number of Muscogees and Chatahochees friends on his arrival here and all insisted that he enter the race.

Referring to his "break" with Governor Hardwick, Judge Howard said that the chief executive objected to the appeal of the proposed state road bond issue.

Should Judge Howard enter the race he will doubtless make the good roads question the main issue, while opposing the proposed income tax and insisting on economy and law enforcement.

POSTPONE HEARING ON GAS RATE CASE

Because of the absence of Judge E. J. Reagan, special counsel, the Georgia railroad commission Tuesday postponed action until Wednesday on the appeal of the Georgia Railway & Power company against the rule nisi requiring them to show cause why the gas rates in Atlanta should not be reduced. Judge Reagan is expected to return Wednesday.

The commission will then confer with him at a conference to be held at the capitol.

The company asked the commission to withhold action on the rule nisi until the United States supreme court has decided the gas rate case, which has been pending for some time before the highest tribunal in the country. In a lengthy discussion of the case Attorney Jack Sprattling, of counsel for the gas company, maintained that "the commission cannot with propriety interfere in the case until the U. S. supreme court has rendered a ruling on the appeal."

Mr. Sprattling contended the only issues in the previous gas litigation which the commission could possibly discuss anew were the valuations of the company's property. Until proper valuations are decided by the supreme court, he asserted, there can be no basis for a new gas rate.

Both Attorney Sprattling and Attorney Luther Z. Rosser, of counsel for the gas company, maintained that the case is now out of the hands of the United States district court and that Judge Sibley cannot change the status. Attorney Rosser admitted the company's motion following the argument of Attorney Sprattling, who said in part:

"If I know anything at all about law you would now be in contempt of court if you attempted to alter the status of this case. It was expressly preserved by the supercedence of Judge Sibley. The supreme court might well ask you why you requested them to speed the decision of the question submitted to them if you did not need their help. They might well ask you why you joined us in a request for an early decision if you had the intention to reopen the whole subject of our gas rates and decide and pass another order while your last order was pending before them. They might well ask you why you requested them to set aside other cases of great moment in order to give you an early decision in this case."

"Suppose the supreme court decides in our favor on any one of our contentions? Such a decision will have a vital bearing upon our rate and will unsettle the whole gas rate question and make it necessary for you to prescribe rates in accordance with the decision of the court."

"Your honorable body is a court itself. If you are not to preserve the status of a case while it is pending before the supreme court of the United States, then who is left to obey judicial mandates?"

Mrs. J. E. Hays, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, who is attending the biennial at Chautauque, N. Y., made a two-minute report Tuesday evening, the subject being "Women as a Working Power in Georgia."

Her address was as follows:

"The Georgia Federation has accomplished more this year than in any previous year, because of correlation with existing organizations."

"Woman's Working Power has been increased in proportion to her privileges. With apologies to Seneca the federation believes that 'God divided man into men and women so they could help each other,' and it can be truly said 'There's not a task to mankind given in Georgia that has a feather's weight of worth without a woman in it.'"

"To secure better education the clubs are working for consolidated rural schools, abolition of illiteracy and county serving libraries. 208 girls have been educated from the $25,000 Student Aid Fund and Georgia's greatest pride her Tallulah Falls school in the mountains of North Georgia."

"For Public Welfare, 110 county jail inspection committees have been organized. The health division had a week for cancer study. Fine arts are encouraged by Georgia song contest and by prizes for best poem and short story."

"Georgia clubs are 100 per cent organized for citizenship study. The federation organized a legislative league and more accurate publicity. She offered the convention valuable suggestions on federation publicity through news, feature and magazine articles, state publicity and co-operation, convention and quick news. She called special attention to the federation's interests featured in magazines by Ida Clyde Clark, Anna Steese Richardson, and Alice Ames Winter."

Other matters scheduled to receive attention at today's session included social service, Indian welfare, institutional relations, and industrial and business relations. Mrs. P. A. Atwood, Riversdale, Cal., reported upon Indian conditions in reservations. She urged education as a view of eventually preparing them for full citizenship.

"The condition of the average country jail," said Miss Julia K. Jeffray, of New York city and chairman of the institutional relations committee, "are unqualifiably intolerable."

"County jails should be abolished, and in their stead, farm colonies should be set up under state control where convicts can be trained to work and where they are paid according to the amount of work they do," she said.

International Relations.

At the first conference on international relations, Mrs. Horace Mann Tower, chairman, a message of international friendship was spoken Friday by representatives of clubs at the Philippines, Mexico, Czechoslovakia, France, New Zealand, and Canada, all asking for the spirit of tolerance and the cultivation of understanding.

Mrs. Veyra, wife of the commissioner from the Philippines, told of the organization by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of the first club in Manila, in 1912, this club a suffrage organization designed under the name of a woman's club.

Their first work, a day nursery, at the end of two years had increased to four nurseries, looking after 280 babies daily.

Now there are 342 clubs in the Philippines, forming the Philippine federation. The annual convention in Manila brings representatives of 12,000 women, affiliated also with the general federation.

ment of motion pictures. Discussion was passed until tomorrow, when, it is expected, Will H. Hays, producer of the Motion Picture Producers, will address the convention.

Other matters scheduled to receive attention at today's session included social service, Indian welfare, institutional relations, and industrial and business relations. Mrs. P. A. Atwood, Riversdale, Cal., reported upon Indian conditions in reservations. She urged education as a view of eventually preparing them for full citizenship.

"The condition of the average country jail," said Miss Julia K. Jeffray, of New York city and chairman of the institutional relations committee, "are unqualifiably intolerable."

"County jails should be abolished, and in their stead, farm colonies should be set up under state control where convicts can be trained to work and where they are paid according to the amount of work they do," she said.

Mrs. J. E. Hays, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, who is attending the biennial at Chautauque, N. Y., made a two-minute report Tuesday evening, the subject being "Women as a Working Power in Georgia."

Her address was as follows:

"The Georgia Federation has accomplished more this year than in any previous year, because of correlation with existing organizations."

"Woman's Working Power has been increased in proportion to her privileges. With apologies to Seneca the federation believes that 'God divided man into men and women so they could help each other,' and it can be truly said 'There's not a task to mankind given in Georgia that has a feather's weight of worth without a woman in it.'"

International Relations.

At the first conference on international relations, Mrs. Horace Mann Tower, chairman, a message of international friendship was spoken Friday by representatives of clubs at the Philippines, Mexico, Czechoslovakia, France, New Zealand, and Canada, all asking for the spirit of tolerance and the cultivation of understanding.

Mrs. Veyra, wife of the commissioner from the Philippines, told of the organization by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of the first club in Manila, in 1912, this club a suffrage organization designed under the name of a woman's club.

Their first work, a day nursery, at the end of two years had increased to four nurseries, looking after 280 babies daily.

Now there are 342 clubs in the Philippines, forming the Philippine federation. The annual convention in Manila brings representatives of 12,000 women, affiliated also with the general federation.

Forty Americans Held for Ransom

Employees of Oil Company Near Tampico Seized by Rebel General, Together With Property.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, June 27.—Seizure of forty American employees of the Cortes Oil company, at Tampico, Mexico, reported to the state department today as security for a ransom of 15,000 pesos created a stir in official circles in Washington. Lacking further information as to what has happened behind what is apparently a rigid censorship at Tampico, however, there was little to indicate tonight whether the incident would lead to any change of attitude here toward the Obregon government in Mexico. In fact, at the white house it was said that relations between the United States and Mexico were not likely to be affected in any way by the kidnapping and the recent kidnapping for ransom near Cuernavaca, some miles from Mexico City, of Bruce Bielaski, formerly chief of bureau of investigation of the department of justice and more recently identified with American oil interests who have property in Mexico.

Until it is known that the incidents are not a matter of domestic politics in Mexico, conceived by enemies of the Obregon government to embarrass its relations with the United States, until that government has been proved unequal to according such protection of Americans and their property as the occasion demands, there appears to be no disposition here to move in any other than a diplomatic way.

Beyond a brief report stating that in addition to the two score American employees a quarter of a million dollars worth of destructible property of the Cortes Oil company was being held as security for the payment demanded, no other word has reached the state department tonight concerning the bandit action in Tampico. Both the embassy in Mexico City and the consul at Tampico were promptly instructed to press for immediate action by the Mexican federal authorities, adequate protection for American lives and property and punishment of the perpetrators of the outrage.

New Rebel.
The consul reported that the rebel general, Gonsalves, with 240 well-armed men, held the property, and the forty Americans, and had given 48 hours from Sunday morning, when the raid occurred, for payment as demanded. The time limit was extended to Monday. It was expected that further word would come at any moment showing what finally had occurred.

It is a new rebel in the Mexican situation. Neither at the state department nor the Mexican embassy was his name recalled. Whether he is a new bandit starting out on a career of outlawry, or one of the group in the Tampico region formerly headed by General Pales, who controlled the oil territory for years levying tribute on oil operators, was not known. Pales, abandoned the field some time ago, however, and is now understood to be in the United States.

There were indications that state department officials were not exactly sure what sort of a situation they had to meet. Some elements in the measure officials account inclined them to move cautiously beyond prompt assistance that the Mexican federal authorities protect all American interests adequately.

No Navy Report.
At least, so far as known, the state department had not tonight reported the Cortes company incident to either army or navy officials or inquired as to the availability of navy ships to send to the scene. There is no American warship now in waters adjacent to Tampico, the Galveston being at Guantanamo, Cuba and Rear Admiral Cole, with three ships of his special service squadron, in canal zone waters. For this reason the navy department had no report of its own of the seizure of the oil camp and its American employees.

The new situation in the oil region overshadowed for the moment the seizure of Bruce Bielaski. No word had come from the embassy today to show progress of the efforts of the Mexican federal authorities to obtain the release of the captive. The delay caused little surprise here, however, as the region is mountainous and it was recognized that the Mexican government must move cautiously if dealing with reckless outlaws in order that the life of the prisoner might not be jeopardized.

MEXICO AUTHORITIES URGED TO ACT.

Mexico City, June 27.—Representations to the Mexican foreign office urging immediate action to secure the release of forty employees of the Cortes Oil company, held by the rebel general, Gonsalves, were made last night by George H. Sumner, the American charge d'affaires, it was announced today.

At the same time the request was renewed for the release of A. Bruce Bielaski, former chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice who was kidnapped Sunday near Cuernavaca and for the apprehension of his captors.

MACON PHYSICIAN IS HELD IN JAIL

Macon, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—The troubles of Dr. Eugene Schreiber, who claims he was kidnapped last Saturday night, lectured and ordered to leave Macon, are not yet ended. It seems, for this evening he is languishing in the city barracks awaiting word from Boston authorities as to his disposition. He was arrested here this afternoon following telegraphic instructions from Boston police, who held warrants for him charging abandonment of his wife and the desertion of his non-support and the desertion of his wife and two minor children.

The message from Boston came from Dr. H. C. Crowder, superintendent of police, and reads as follows: "We hold indictment warrants for Dr. Eugene Schreiber, 33 years old, 5 feet 7 inches, 170 pounds, dark complexion, mustache and brown hair and eyes. Wears glasses and is married. Charged with abandonment, non-support and desertion of wife and two minor children from June 13, 1919 to June 4, 1921, please arrest and wire me and I will send man with proper papers."

When the city detectives went to arrest Dr. Schreiber they found him in his office packing some of his effects preparatory to leaving the city. He seemed somewhat surprised when arrested and was visibly nervous after his arrival at the police station, but laughed when someone suggested that while he could not leave Macon he was at least safe from the men who carried him into the city Saturday night.

Dr. Schreiber was booked on a technical charge of loitering and the Boston police were immediately notified he is in custody.

Dr. Schreiber still contends that the only reason he advanced for the alleged kidnapping is that of jealousy on the part of local physicians, who he says objected to his methods of advertising.

Dr. Schreiber admitted this afternoon that Mrs. Vera Berghelm, the nurse who figured in the case here, is not his sister-in-law, as he had previously contended. She is a handsome woman and when in the company of Dr. Schreiber always wore the costume of a nurse. She left for Jacksonville Sunday, having previously sent her two children to that city.

After a conference with Dr. Schreiber this evening, Attorney John R. Cooper announced that Dr. Schreiber will fight extradition when the officers appear before Governor Hardwick.

"If there is any desertion, it was in the state of Florida and not here," said the lawyer. "They separated in the state of Florida. Dr. Schreiber coming to Macon and his wife going to Boston."

Barrett, of Chicago, his only opponent, according to the official tabulation announced here today. McParland received 28,732 votes to his opponent's 24,219.

Tariff to Boost U. S. Meat Bill By $379,500,000

Washington, June 27.—Duties on fresh meats and meat products proposed in the pending tariff bill, if effective, would increase the nation's meat bill $379,500,000, Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, declared today in the senate. He was discussing the agricultural schedule and announced that from a mutton he would "submit figures, staggering in their size, showing what an unbearable burden these duties on agricultural products will be to the consumer."

Senator Walsh estimated that the duties on beef and veal would increase prices of those commodities by $231,000,000 a year; that mutton and lamb would advance by a total of $81,500,000, pork by $108,000,000 and beef by $120,000,000. He said the total would be $377 for the country, woman and child in the man, or $15.85 for a family of five. The Massachusetts senator contended that the increased cost to the people of his state alone would be $15,140,000.

The speaker argued that the proposed tariffs could not have all the effect of raising the general level of prices to the producer.

Not to Aid Farmers.
"A tariff upon agricultural products, except in a very limited number of instances, may not have all the effect of raising the general level of prices to the producer."

"To whatever extent it will raise the price to the producer it will (a) increase the cost of living to the people of the country; (b) react in higher cost of the things the farmer must buy. This was well illustrated during the war. As the cost of agricultural products increased, an increase in prices of things the farmer purchased closely followed, and the result was little net advantage to him."

"The wages of labor have been and are becoming more and more dependent upon the cost of living. Increased costs through tariff rates of these things the laboring people of the country must eat means increased wages, and increased wages in the industrial and large centers of population means that labor will be scarce and will demand correspondingly high wages on the farm."

Means Losses.
"In those cases where the duties on agricultural products will be most effective in increasing rates levied upon commodities produced in restricted sections by the small percentage of the farmers of the United States, such as wheat and corn, cotton, lemons, almonds, walnuts, figs and wrapper tobacco, of which the great majority of farmers are consumers rather than producers, the result will be losses to the farmer."

"In an examination of statistics and well-known information in regard to some of these agricultural articles," Senator Walsh continued, "it will prove, I believe beyond question, that this schedule will not meet with the success claimed for it, and will impair and injure materially the growing and expanding export business of the country. If this is true, then these tariff dues are mere paper duties and will be of no benefit to the farmer."

TWO VIOLATORS OF WARTIME LAWS GIVEN CLEMENCY

Washington, June 27.—Extension of executive clemency to Vincent St. John, nationally known as a former organizer and secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., and Clyde Hough, of Rockford, Ill., both serving sentence for violation of war-time laws, was announced today at the department of justice.

The two men have been imprisoned at Leavenworth penitentiary and will be released at once under commutation of sentence. St. John was convicted in the Chicago I. W. W. prosecutions and sentenced to ten years imprisonment, while Hough was sentenced to serve five years for violation of the espionage act.

Norman formerly was solicitor-general of Toombs judicial circuit, and in the last judgeship race he opposed Judge E. T. Shurley, who was elected. Earle Norman is a veteran of the world war.

Ku Klux Warn I. W. W. Away From Cherokee

Cherokee, Okla., June 27.—An open challenge to the Industrial Workers of the World was laid down here last night when more than 200 marchers, wearing regalia of the Ku Klux Klan, paraded the streets of this city, carrying signs defying the I. W. W., and warning them to stay away from Cherokee.

A large crowd witnessed the parade. The marchers paraded principal streets for nearly an hour. It is thought they came here chiefly from nearby towns. Four leaders, carrying a flaming cross, were on horseback while the remainder walked. Three trumpeters preceded the marchers. Signs carried were: "I. W. W. nobody is afraid; the sheriff has 500 deputies in Alfalfa county."

"The sheriff may not know, but we do and we will," "We know all and report all," "Don't get scared, get right," "The man next to you is a klan member."

"Husbands, joyride with your own wife," "We do other things besides parade."

The parade followed as an aftermath of the riot here last week between harvest hands, which was incited, it is believed, by I. W. W. One man was wounded and several others seriously wounded in the riot.

Phillips Has Announced Candidacy for Senate; Harris for House

Louisville, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—The political situation in this section is beginning to show form. Some interest and much talk is beginning to brew on the governor's race and for other state house offices. But the important discussion locally, is on the race in Jefferson county that will be staged by candidates for the legislature—both house and senate.

It is Jefferson's time to name the senator from the Richmond district, which comprises Richmond, Glascock and Jefferson. Judge B. F. Walker, present senator and at the time of his election two years ago a resident of Glascock, has announced his move to Jefferson and is now living at Wrens. He has announced he will not be a candidate.

J. T. Phillips, an attorney of Louisville, has announced his candidacy. He states that he goes into the race not for any love of politics but from a sense of duty and a desire to perform genuine public service. He has had previous experience as a legislator, having served in the lower house in 1901, 1902, 1903.

R. V. Harris, one of Jefferson's representatives in the legislature, has announced for re-election. He was elected last year as the extra representative from the county.

The New York state national guard now has an aggregate strength of 773 officers and 15,408 enlisted men.

CHILE-PERU NEAR ARBITRATION PACT

Washington, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—A final agreement between Chile and Peru for arbitration of Iquitos-Arica dispute awaited today only smoothing out of the wording and interpretation of the American compromise formula.

Peruvian Ambassador Paset and the two Peruvian delegates to the Washington conference arranged during the day to call on Secretary Hughes for the purpose, it was understood, of communicating Peru's acceptance of the compromise plan "in principle," and of asking the secretary to clear up a portion of the formula to which varying interpretations have been attached.

Chile, having accepted the principle of the compromise proposal nearly a week ago, it was indicated that active exchanges regarding the exact language of the formula would begin immediately. Both sides appeared anxious to proceed as rapidly as possible in the hope of bringing the conference to an end during the present week.

An effort to frame an exact wording for the formula, begun several days ago by representatives of both sides, was interrupted until today to await the return of Secretary Hughes from a week-end trip. It was felt no progress could be made until he had cleared up the misunderstanding over the no-pledge feature of this plan.

EARLY HEARING FOR MRS. CREECH

Moultrie, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—Commitment trial of Mrs. Sarah Creech, 28, charged with the murder of Dolly Walters, who died following a fight Monday afternoon, will be held Thursday or Friday.

Florence Walters, who was cut in the fight in which her sister was stabbed to death, is out of danger, it was stated today.

Mrs. Creech, who is in jail here, reiterated her contention that she acted in self defense, asserting that the two sisters attacked her and that she had to use her knife to save her own life.

She is anxious for a commitment trial, she stated.

Dolly Walters was buried this afternoon at Poulton, her former home. Mr. C. Creech, the husband of Mrs. Creech, was expected to reach here tonight to assist in his wife's defense.

Glaring Assault And Kidnap Case Baffling Officers

Waycross, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—What appears to have been a bold kidnapping plot was enacted early Sunday day night in front of the New Willard hotel.

Local police authorities are today attempting to find either the unknown man who was struck over the head with a heavy object, or the two assailants who lifted him into a Ford automobile and sped away before any of the several witnesses could interfere.

According to those who saw the attack, the two men, driving a Ford car, drove up to a lone pedestrian as he was passing in front of the hotel. One of the men jumped out of the car, in the full glare of an electric light, and struck him in the head with a heavy object, and with the assistance of his companion dragged the victim into the car and drove off.

The entire affair was over in a few seconds, before several parties who were passing at the time could interfere. The police were immediately notified, and a city-wide search was started for the kidnapers. The incident is puzzling the authorities.

Family Row Results In Fight for Gun; Outsider Is Killed

Elberton, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—As a result of a battle with Bird Moon at Carhart Mills here Sunday for possession of a revolver, Charles Garrett was shot in the back of the head. He died almost instantly.

Garrett, it is stated, was assisting T. E. Parnell and Mrs. Parnell to disarm Moon. Parnell and his wife, who is a sister of Moon, had quarreled, it is stated, and Parnell had chased her to her mother's home with a razor. Moon, armed with a revolver, went to his sister's aid.

Ware County's Offices Are Failing to Appeal; Candidates Are Scarce

Waycross, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—With the announcement of the schedule for the candidates, interest in the approaching primaries for county and district offices is due to increase.

The only candidates who have made formal announcements in Ware county are J. I. Summerville for judge, and Allen B. Spence for solicitor-general. According to statements issued from Douglas, V. W. Quincy also will be a candidate for judge. Little interest has been shown in the matter of representatives, but it is understood that at least one of the incumbents, J. D. Haddock, will offer for re-election.

Senate Confirms Large Nomination As Postmaster

Constitution Bureau.
Raleigh Hotel.
Washington, June 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The nomination of Edwin K. Large to be postmaster at Atlanta was confirmed by the senate in executive session last Monday night. Certificates of office will be issued by the postoffice department immediately, it is understood.

At the same session, the senate rejected the nomination of Joe B. Crane, who was nominated for the office at Dallas, Texas, in a contest which was one of the three Georgia nominations over which Senator Thomas E. Watson and Senator Phillips, of Colorado, almost got into a fight on the floor recently.

Senator Townsend, a few days ago, announced that the postoffice committee had decided to make an unfavorable report on the Diehl nomination. At the same time he stated that the committee had agreed to report favorably on the nomination of Edwin K. Large, at Tallahassee, but no action on this office has as yet been taken.

Senator Watson today stated that statements from Major Stewart, of Savannah, concerning the citizenship status of F. W. Curran, whose nomination for the Savannah office has been held up for several weeks, have been filed with the committee. The nomination of Mr. Curran is the only remaining one of the three Georgia posts which has not received some action from the senate committee.

When the announcement concerning the agreement on the other two offices was made, members of the committee asserted that final action on the nomination of Curran would be held up for ten days in order to give the Georgia senator time to complete his case. With the documents filed today, an early decision is expected.

THE ASSEMBLY.

The Georgia general assembly convenes at noon today.

Being the second annual session of the two-year elective term both houses and all committees are already organized for work.

It is reasonable to presume, therefore, that legislative activities will begin in earnest following the delivery of the governor's message to the joint houses.

Atlanta always extends a cordial and a hearty welcome to the members of the assembly.

They come from every county in the state, representatives of all the people in legislative matters, but more than that, the personal representatives of every profession and every industry in a state of almost pure Anglo-Saxon blood, made an empire by the courage and fidelity and dependability of a frugal yeomanry.

The assembly that convenes today will have before it many great constructive problems to solve, and many state-wide issues to battle with.

The highest ideals of democracy are vouchsafed in deliberative bodies that are representative of all the people, and the Constitution has faith that the net results of the session may redound to the honor and glory of Georgia.

GOVERNMENT BY FEAR.

Upon several occasions during the last few months citizens of southern states have been "waited upon" by mobs, dragged from their homes, in some instances flogged or otherwise tortured, and ordered to "leave the country" on pain of further punishment.

Almost invariably such acts of brutality and violence are committed at night, of course, for the patent reason that all who participate in them are essentially cowards, afraid to be identified with what they do, and, therefore, they operate by rule of the pack and under cover of darkness.

In many instances, as an additional safeguard against identification, they wear masks.

Georgia, it is regrettable to say, has by no means been immune from demonstrations of this infamous type of outlawry.

A few weeks ago the city manager of Columbus was assaulted and threatened with death and the destruction of his household if he didn't "get out of the country."

He left.

Last Saturday night a Macon physician was lured from his home by a ruse, blindfolded, gagged, carried out into the country, and ordered to leave the city. At last accounts he had announced his intention to comply with the order as soon as he can close up his personal business affairs.

During last Sunday night a cigar manufacturer of Thomasville was waylaid by a mob, taken out into a woods, flogged, tarred and feathered and warned by his assailants to leave the city within a specified time limit. He is preparing to act accordingly.

The Constitution holds no brief for any of these men. We know nothing about their character as citizens, nor as to whether or not any of them had committed any act detrimental to the community welfare.

But we do know that if in any case a citizen violates his citizenship rights or makes his presence injurious to the public welfare, his community has its remedy, and that remedy lies in resort to the processes of the courts of law and not to those of the law of the mob.

The authorities of the law should enforce the law as it stands.

taining the identity of all who participated in these outrages against orderly society and in bringing them to the bar of justice.

The state cannot afford to permit such crimes to go unpunished, for if it does the time inevitably will come when no man will know to what extent he may depend upon the law for protection in his rights as a citizen, or when he or his household is safe in his own home.

The tendency of this sort of thing is essentially away from civilization, and toward barbarism; away from government by law, and toward government by fear and intimidation.

CABINET AND CONGRESS.

Reports from Washington that President Harding and his official family have been discussing the question of the advisability of instituting legislation giving cabinet members membership privileges in both houses of congress as a means of bringing about closer co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of the government have again drawn popular attention to what most authorities on government regard as a fundamental weakness in our constitution.

Historians tell us that the framers of our constitution originally intended to imitate the English system of government in respect to the relations between the legislative, the executive and the judicial powers, but failed in a measure owing to a lack of complete understanding as to just what those relations were.

Under the British system, although the three basic functions of the government are distinct theoretically, in practice the legislative and executive branches were being merged at the time when our forefathers were engaged in formulating the American republican plan; and they, not wholly understanding this tendency, established a "government of checks and balances" by which the executive and legislative branches are entirely separate and distinct in practice as well as in theory.

In England, a system of almost complete amalgamation has been developed.

Under it the prime minister, the highest elective official in the government, and its actual executive head, is also a member of the house of commons, elected by the people, and as such he participates in parliamentary debate, is subject to interrogation by his fellow members, etc.

In short, he is the point of direct contact between the legislative and executive branches, an active official in each.

And whenever a new policy in government is proposed by the executive branch it is taken directly to the legislative branch and presented by the head executive official who would be responsible for its administration.

This system unquestionably facilitates and expedites legislation, and at the same time keeps the executive branch of the government in much closer contact with the people than is possible under our system.

Here, the party system tends to arm the president and his cabinet with real power over legislation inasmuch as the chief executive is regarded as the leader of the party to which he belongs, and which is theoretically supposed to dominate congress.

However, the tendency in this country is more and more toward partisan independence in the selection of congressmen and senators, and upon several occasions during recent years congress has been entirely out of political harmony with the executive branch of the government.

That, when it happens, is a condition that inevitably must endure for at least two years before the people can make a change in the political complexion of either branch, during which time each is forced to labor under the handicap of being at political loggerheads with the other, and major constructive activities on the part of either are next to impossible.

Whether or not conferring limited legislative privileges upon members of the president's cabinet would materially improve our government remains, of course, to be seen.

It is a question that has been agitated and argued pro and con at intervals for many years, advocated and opposed by members of both of the two major political parties; and from all that can be seen at this time no harm could result from giving the proposed innovation a trial.

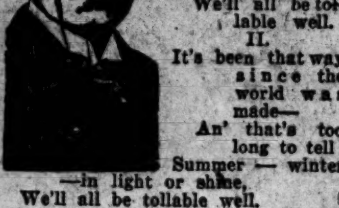

If it should prove advantageous, well and good; if not, it could easily be discarded.

Apparently her critics will never be able to forgive the flapper for being young.

Like Birds That Migrate in Summer, Georgia's Legislators Flock to Town

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

True to custom and in obedience to the annual session law, the Georgia legislature is again with us.

It is composed of the same faces that became familiar in the capitol and hotel lobbies one year ago; for the good Lord has been kind and the grim reaper has not exacted any excessive tolls during the ten months that have intervened since the gavels fell on the fifteenth of last August.

Many trials and tribulations have wrangled at the very vitals of Georgia's commercial and industrial and agricultural life in the past few months, however; but the clouds are passing.

With cotton bailing strong around 22 cents, the Georgia farmer kept to the necessity for intensive cultivation and greater diversification. The dawn of hope has brought its stream of sunlight into the valleys of depression.

The two hundred Georgia legislators have already checked in for the session reflect the better spirit.

Atlanta, true to its traditional hospitality, is always glad to welcome the legislators in annual session.

The hosts of lawmakers are among the state's most representative men; and their 60-day sojourn in the capitol city, during the warm mid-summer months, produces a snap and a punch in the routine of usually dull seasons that invites a selfish hope that the movement for biennial sessions may not prevail.

And yet, stripped of that selfish wish, there can be no doubt as to the wisdom of the biennial session.

Such a change would save the state around $600,000 a year; but the far greater importance would be the stabilizing effect on business.

There is entirely too much tinkering with legislation already written. It keeps business and industry in a condition of nervous expectancy that impairs efficiency, and frequently destroys opportunities for properly financing.

The assembly will get down to work much more smoothly, and with less delay than it did last year.

It is always thus at the second session of the two-year term.

Committees are already organized; and the rancor of organization politics is not in evidence to be ironed out by time and diplomacy.

There is a great deal of unfinished business of a constructive nature that will come up early in the session.

WHEN A BUSINESS DOESN'T PAY.
This is a typical moving picture of cardio-vascular degeneration—the heart-artery wearing-out that manifests itself in the form of Bright's disease or slow heart muscle failure or apoplexy or hardened arteries.
My dear Dr. Brady:
I am writing in behalf of my husband. He has suffered a nervous breakdown, nerve fatigue, as Dr. ... expressed it for nearly two years, caused apparently by his tonsils which had to come out. I say it was due to lack of exercise and recreation and to being confined in the store from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m. every day in the year without vacations or holidays for over twelve years.
He wishes me to ask you why when he goes to bed at 10:30 or 11 o'clock he wakes at 5 a. m. and can't get to sleep again because his ear buzzes and his head has the same examination by Dr. ... and by an eye and ear specialist, and neither of them found any explanation for the ear noises. It seems to be due to his nervous condition.
We were compelled to give up our store, but thank the Lord we had saved enough to take care of us all right. ... you a million times for past favors, remain,
Yours,
Mrs. ...

Merchants Will Present Vaudeville Extravaganza

Plans for a "vaudeville extravaganza," to include a wide variety of entertainment and to be accompanied by a big street parade and everything else that goes with a big show, is being planned by the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association at the Auditorium for two nights in the week of July 9 to 14.

This was decided at a special meeting Tuesday when Lucian York, who originated the idea, presented details of his plans to the membership and was voted a hearty co-operation on all sides. Mr. York will have entire charge of the production and will work out all details of the parade and other features.

"The affair will be a successful one in every respect," Mr. York told the association. "Vaudeville, minstrelsy, dancing, a fashion show with a long list of Atlanta society people, wearing stunning costumes supplied by the big Whitehall street stores and other big features will all be included. We will put on the shows for a dollar a seat, and in my opinion we will have to turn people away."

Details of the performances and the cast will be announced in a short while. Mr. York announces, and he is counting on enlisting the aid of several of the leading musical clubs of the city in his undertaking.

The production committee in charge of the show follows:
Beaumont Davidson, Sam Rothberg, R. M. Stripling, J. P. Allen, Clarence Bloodworth, W. H. Brittain, J. C. LeViere, John Morris, Jr., Werner Byck, John C. Mackey, Leroy Rogers, Francis Clark, E. A. Campbell, J. E. Ryan, J. W. Graves, W. Gordon Egan, Meyer Regenstein, Arthur Wassner, Charlie Miller, Mrs. T. T. Stevens, Fuzzy Woodard, W. M. Brownlee, Harold Kelly, O. B. Keeler, Charles Sheldon, Jr., Herbert Porter, John Eric, Frank Cates, Signor E. Volpi, Eugene Schmidt, Lucian York.

Atlanta Press Club Plans to Celebrate French Independence

Plans to hold a Bastille day celebration on July 14 are being formulated by the entertainment committee of the Atlanta Press club, it was announced yesterday.

The newly-organized club of local newspaper men will entertain their friends on the French holiday at a great barbecue or similar event. Admission will be by card only.

Ed Danforth has been named chairman of the entertainment committee, which includes the following: Hargraves, Vernon Styles, Parks Rusk, H. C. Hamilton, John Hammond and John Marsh.

A meeting of the committee will be held at once for the purpose of making definite decision as to the time and hour of the celebration.

GIRLS ARE GRADUATED AT TRAINING SCHOOL

The Georgia Training School for Girls graduated seven girls Tuesday afternoon with beautiful and impressive ceremonies.

Eugene R. Black, president of the Trust Company of Georgia, delivered the address to the class. Wilmer L. Moore, executive vice president of the school, presented the certificates and awarded the prizes.

The orchestra of the Central Presbyterian church assisted the school in staging a pageant which represented the rise and fall of the seasons. Several students executed interpretive dances.

Mrs. M. E. Sikes, superintendent of the school, in commenting on the work of the institution, lamented the fact that the legislature met her request for an increase in the appropriation with a reduction of 10 per cent, which allowed the school only $31,500 for the year's expenses.

The graduation of the school is a landmark in the closing of one of the dormitories, reducing the accommodations for students from 125 to 75 pupils.

Mrs. Sikes said: "The only thing this school lacks is adequate facilities for caring for the girls. Every day I am forced to refuse girls entrance, and I know that if the people realized the great good we are doing here wouldn't be the slightest hesitation on their part in granting us the money necessary to put the school on the basis it should be on. We take girls the courts have found to be incorrigible and fit them to be good wives and mothers."

"I feel that my statement will be interpreted as a tribute to the Business Men's Billy Sunday club, which has been one of our most dependable and faithful friends. Every Sunday these gentlemen conduct services at the church and in many other ways show their interest in our welfare."

Mr. Moore made a short talk in which he praised Mrs. Sikes' work with the girls, and her ability to make such a creditable showing with so few resources. He also briefly outlined the history of the institution. Refreshments, made by the students, were served after the entertainment.

The graduates were Misses Louise Sweet, Acheson, Bandner, Ruth Roberts, Essie Stewart, Anna Lambert, Julia Dunn and Ellen Hart.

CRANE DENIES HANGING AROUND POLICE STATION

Editor Constitution: My name was mentioned in a news item in your paper of Sunday's issue of June 25 under the heading of "Police Station Bond Expert Uses Bible Defending His Trade."

It was charged that I lounged about and hung around the police station and the police courtroom. This statement was untrue and when P. P. Jackson swore to it he knew that it was untrue.

In reference to my visiting down there, as they state, it is true that I go to the police matinee very often, for it will amuse anyone more than any movie in the city.

That is the sole purpose that I go for, just to see and hear the trials of the cases and nothing else, and at no time have I ever asked any one to let me represent them or their folks in any matter whatsoever or talked to anyone for such purposes.

As to lounging and hanging about the police station I have never stopped as long as twenty minutes after transacting the legitimate business that I had there and this has continued for the past twenty-five years. Chief Beavers, Chief Jett, Captain Holcomb and many other good officers are there and very often I stop and have a casual conversation with one of these gentlemen for a few minutes and then I pass on.

Now, as I am not a party defendant in his contest, as appears from his bill and cannot be heard, and in view of the fact that my name has been mentioned in your paper, this is my only means of answering same and ask you to kindly give this letter space in your paper.

THE PERISCOPE

Civilization isn't cradled on political bunk.

If an easy prosperity encourages vice, posterity will be a virtuous set.

An economist says over-production causes low wages. Does the gentleman favor birth control?

People who keep on expecting the worst fall utterly to grasp the significance of the present.

It doesn't take the immigrant long to learn a few words of English, such as "Sure, it's bottled in bond."

It is strange, however, that nobody discovered Daugherty's sins until there was talk of prosecuting war grafters.

It sounds unreasonable, but as a girl's legs become beautiful in the old days, the horrified mother lengthens her skirts.

The reformers would feel better if they realized that few on the beach are as attractive as the bathing-suit girls on magazine covers.

Confirmed or habitual readers may recall some of the mean things I have said here from time to time about nervous breakdown and neuroses. There's the prick of conscience this thing, as sure as sin. This victim of inordinate acquisitiveness to give it a mild name, voluntarily and willfully, shamelessly and sinfully I might say, entered into a state of nervous breakdown. I say, and a day battling for the Almighty Dollar—and now he is paying the price. He should not complain. He should take his medicine along with his conscience.

Shall a man eat his cake and have it too?
That is a sorry policy for a business man.

What is the matter with the business schools that they do not teach the first rule for success in business "knowledge" of respect for and obedience to the laws of life?

"Nervous breakdown!" A childish alibi.

Health is capital. This foolish man entered business with fair capital. He left it, involuntarily bankrupt! That's fine business acumen, isn't it? They say, and I fear with reason, that we doctors are the greatest fools of all in matters of business. I say, and I have plenty of documentary evidence to substantiate what I say, that the average business man is a complete fool in matters of business.

The same get-rich-quick greed which prompts the unwise businessman to waste his substance in voluntary slavery prompts the gullible doctor to invest the scanty surplus of flush times in phony stocks and wildcat ventures of every kind. Each needs the other's advice but neither wants it.

George A. remarked the other day that he never permitted business to interfere with his golf. Walking is better than golf, but even golf is exercise. The business man whose business ties him down long hours every day, makes no mistake in making a vacation at home a day in golf if he can't afford to take six miles of oxygen on the roof.

VIADUCT APPROACH PLANS ABANDONED

Abandonment for the present of plans to build an approach from Alabama street to the Spring street viaduct, was recommended by the viaduct committee and adopted by the bond commission Tuesday afternoon. The engineers will be instructed, however, to so design the viaduct that the approach can be built and connected at any time in the future.

Fire headquarters, located where the approach would interfere, led the committee to seek a revision of the plans. Fire Chief W. B. Cody recommended removal of the station to another location. To do so would require five or six months and entail a cost of $25,000 or $30,000, it was said, since the elaborate fire alarm system terminates at this station. Chief Cody suggested that No. 1 fire engine house on Alabama could be combined with Station No. 6 at Carnegie Way and Spring street.

On account of the length of time that would necessarily elapse before the change could be made and in order that there might be no delay in starting the bridge, the committee decided it would be best to suspend plans for the approach until later.

Work will move forward immediately on two large sewer projects as soon as council approves recommendations of the commission.

The commission recommended that the bid of $124,850 be accepted and McDougald Construction company be awarded the contract to build an 850-foot extension to the Lloyd street trunk sewer. The sewer is to be nineteen feet wide and thirteen feet high.

The commission recommended that the bid of $11,907 be accepted and J. B. McGary company be awarded the contract to build a 980-foot extension to the Stewart avenue trunk sewer.

CAR SERVICE REDUCED TO DRUID HILLS CLUB

The state railroad commission Tuesday issued an order permitting the Georgia Railway and Power company to establish a 20-minute street car service on its Druid Hills line.

The order permits the company to reduce the schedule from 10 minutes to 20 minutes between Springdale road and the Druid Hills club.

The power company expressed willingness to extend the service beyond the club to the end of the line, but maintained it could not afford to do so unless it curtailed its schedule from Springdale road to the end of the line.

Protests were made by a delegation, headed by Harry Moore, of the Atlanta freight bureau, to the company reducing the schedule beyond Springdale road. Evidence was introduced to show that many persons depend on the street car service in this section daily, besides servants and caddies, as was contended by the power company.

The commission also passed an order requiring the A. & W. F. railroad to sell commutation tickets between West Point and Atlanta at the same rate per mile as commutation tickets are now sold between Palmetto and this city.

A petition, signed by citizens of West Point and other towns between that place and Palmetto was read before the commission.

CAVALRYMEN BUY PONIES OF RODEO; PLAN POLO TEAM

Headquarters of the Georgia cavalry have purchased all of the horses which were brought to Atlanta by Cheyenne Kiser for the rodeo which was staged at Lakewood during the progress and prosperity week celebration.

The deal was closed Tuesday by R. M. Striplin and First Lieutenant H. J. Gwiner, of the cavalry headquarters. The horses will be under the direct supervision of Lieutenant Gwiner and Major J. O. Seaman, and will be used by the cavalry for mounts.

The intention of the organization in buying the horses is to establish a polo team. The horses are now being broken and trained for polo work. The cavalrymen plan to stage a game in the near future at Ponce de Leon park and also plan to use the horses in various entertainments which the cavalry unit will stage.

TO RECEIVE REPORT

London, June 27.—The Evening News says the British government sent a warning last Saturday to the Irish provisional government, declaring that if the latter government's authority to restore order was not exercised the British government would have to take action.

The British communication, according to the newspaper, requested the provisional government "to act promptly and vigorously to break up the organization for intimidation and murder which is designed to wreck the treaty and is directed, in the opinion of his majesty's government, from the four courts in Dublin." The warning continued:

"If the provisional government, now that the elections show they possess the support of the majority in the south, do not exercise their authority to restore order, the imperial government will be obliged to take action."

The News says the warning does not contain a time limit and cannot be described as an ultimatum. It also offered certain advice to the provisional government.

IRISH GOVERNMENT DENOUNCES OUTRAGE.

Dublin, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Irish provisional government issued a manifesto this afternoon denouncing outrages against the Irish people and denouncing the boycott of Belfast had no legal existence and announcing that the government would resolutely perform its duty to maintain and order the co-operation of citizens in this was issued.

NEUTRAL ZONE EXPERIMENT.

Belfast, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The new neutral zone experiment, establishing a five-mile strip of neutral territory in the Pettigo and Belleek districts of the Ulster-free state border, under a triple agreement between the British, the provisional and northern governments, came into effect today, Premier Sir James Craig, of Ulster, told an interviewer.

Premier Craig said the military took complete control of two and one-half miles on either side of the border, the royal Ulster constabulary taking one side of the border and the free state police, unarmed, occupying the other side.

WALKER TAKES FLING AT HARDWICK'S CARD AND PROMISES MORE

In the language of the late lamented Sam Jones, it's always the hit dog that howls," said Mr. Walker, in reference to the governor's card. "I shall have something more to say about the Clay Robson lobby later."

Twenty-One Killed In Lower California In Last Two Weeks

Calxico, Calif., June 27.—Twenty-one men have been killed in and around Mexicali, Lower California, in the last two weeks, according to official reports in Calxico, just across the international line. This compilation was made today following the discovery this morning of eight dead Mexicans and a half of a dozen cast in an irrigation ditch on the American side of the boundary.

Other Possible Changes. Besides the forestry service, it is suggested that the Brown plan may contain recommendations for the transfer of the public roads bureau, one of the most highly organized branches of the department of agriculture, to the interior department. Some think the bureau of markets even will be included in the recommendations.

Officials and chiefs of the various bureaus affected by the proposed change are said to be strongly against it, and will share the sympathies of Secretary Wallace in opposing such a move.

If the Brown report comes out as indicated, Secretary Wallace will take it as a personal repudiation, his friends assert, and no amount of pressure can prevail upon him to continue the office.

It may be that there are other shake-ups in store. The disorganization within cabinet positions has been a matter of common discussion in Washington for some time. The president declares it his purpose to reorganize and straighten out the many tangled threads of government departments early in his administration, but so far no action has been taken. Those on the inside of the proceedings see the Brown report as the first step in this direction; but they also see dangers of disruption if the president's course is not handled carefully.

'Aunt Patty' Beck Calmly Observed Century Roll By

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

When The Constitution's official government expedition into the north-east Georgia mountains was halted recently on the road between Clayton, Ga., and Highland, N. C., at Warwoman Creek and it became necessary to pull some of the cars out of the swollen stream, several members, during the hour's delay, repaired to an old, weather-beaten farm house on the top of the hill for water. There they found "Uncle Charlie" Beck, a gray-haired, grizzled veteran of the mountains, as hospitable as these pure old Saxon types are wont to be, and with a greeting that was as welcome as the fresh, sparkling water from the spring that nestled under the willows in the rear of his yard.

In the conversation with "Uncle Charlie" he referred with a son's inevitable fondness to his "mother," and with the pride of one who had been blessed by a parental companionship for more than three score years and ten, he introduced the party to "Aunt Patty" Beck, who sat in a comfortable rocker in the shade of a vine-covered porch, as serene as the soft, land-scented breezes that swept from the surrounding mountain peaks.

Centenarian Plus. "Aunt Patty" was said by her son to be 103 years old, and the photographers of the party got busy, not alone because of her great age, but because of her beauty. She had been born and raised within a mile of that one home of eighty-odd years, and remembered with a clearness that was almost uncanny, the old Indian days when the hills of north Georgia were red with the blood of the warring Cherokee and Choctaw and Catawba tribes.

She spoke of those trying days with a memory remarkable for its acuteness, and entertained the party with stories of her own experiences, and with her fondness for fishing and the trip she made 90 years ago, unattended and alone, to Montana to visit a great-grand daughter.

And now—so soon—and yet as an inevitable exacting of time, "Aunt Patty" has crossed over to rest under the eternal shades; and to join in everlasting companionship the scores and scores of loved ones who have gone before.

Every member of the party who enjoyed the half hour talk with this woman of the hills, whose descendants number into the hundreds, and who are among the most honored people of Rabun county today, will draw a sigh of genuine grief when the news is flashed to them that "Aunt Patty" is dead.

Few people in this age are permitted to enjoy a hundred years of life, even when the contentment of simplicity that characterizes these good old mountain folk.

And "Aunt Patty" enjoyed a distinction in the last thirty days of her more than hundred years of undaunted and unmeasured but unheralded usefulness, that more modern men and women have fought for, and sacrificed for, and died for.

She became the heroine of a moving picture film, and the great-grand picture hardly peep from the clouds above her grave until millions of people will see her face in the silent drama.

It is not all of life to live in the turmoil and strife and glitter of the modern day—and night. Every sweet-scented path is not perfumed with the primrose.

ASK COMMUTATION FOR GLEN HUDSON

Denying his guilt of the crime for which he was convicted recently and sentenced to be hanged, Glen Hudson, Dougherty county farmer, who was denied a new trial last week by the Georgia supreme court, Tuesday filed a plea before the Georgia prison commission for commutation to life imprisonment.

Hudson was convicted of the murder of his two stepsons, 4 and 9 years of age. His wife, who was charged jointly with the crime, was acquitted.

In the petition filed with the prison commission, Hudson maintains his innocence and declares the murder was done by two negro farm hands, whom he claims were loitering around his home on the morning of the murder. He also assails the character of his wife, who is the mother of the two boys who were the victims, although he expresses the belief that she is innocent of any connection with the crime. Both boys were found under the Hudson home with their bodies brutally beaten and bullet holes in their heads.

Arguments on the application will be heard by the prison commission next week, it was stated.

Cost of Running City Exceeded Income in 1920

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, June 27.—(By Constitution Bureau.)—Atlanta was one of 11 cities out of a group of 16 whose per capita cost of government in 1920 exceeded the total per capita amount of revenue received, the report released today by the department of commerce, through the bureau of the census.

The total cost of government in the city for the year ending December 31, 1920, was $31.71 per capita, or that much for every man, woman, and child reported in the 1920 census; the total per capita revenue collected was only $31.49. This was 22 cents per capita less than the cost of government.

The statement shows the per capita revenue and the per capita governmental-cost payments in cities having a population of 150,000 to 300,000, together with comparative figures for the period from 1914. This includes maintenance and operation of general departments of the city; maintenance and operation of public service enterprises such as water works, electric light works, or street railways which may be owned and operated by the city; interest on debts; and the total payments for outlays on new buildings and other permanent improvements. Revenue receipts and governmental-costs payments, however, do not include indebtedness incurred or paid during the year.

Other Georgia Cities. Compared with two other Georgia cities, both of which were in a different classification as regards population, the report showed that the per capita cost of government in Atlanta was slightly less than in Macon and Columbus, being $1.43 less than the latter and three cents per capita less than in Macon.

Per capita revenues in the two other Georgia cities were also considerably less than the per capita revenues for Atlanta. In Macon they were $29.21, with government cost $31.74 per capita, while in Columbus the per capita revenue was $28.46 with total government expenses amounting to $33.14 per capita.

Expenses attached to general departments of the city of Atlanta for the fiscal year ending December, 1920, were $20.07 per capita, and expenses for public services enterprises amounting to $11.64 per capita.

Mrs. Thompson Entertains For New York Visitors

Mrs. Harry Miles and her daughter, Miss Martha Miles, of New York, are being extensively entertained as the guests of Mrs. Harry Thompson, at her home on Springdale road.

Mrs. Thompson was hostess at an informal tea Monday afternoon, inviting forty friends to meet her guests.

The lower floor of the home was decorated with a profusion of bright garden flowers.

The dainty color motif of pink and white was carried out in the decorations of the dining room. The tea table held as a centerpiece a silver basket of pink and white sweet peas and snapdragons.

Mrs. Thompson received her guests wearing a striking gown of black and white lace.

Mrs. Miles was handsomely gowned in black lace.

Miss Martin Miles wore an afternoon frock of brown lace.

Mrs. Herbert Miles and Mrs. J. T. Winsor assisted Mrs. Thompson in receiving.

Mrs. Homer Davis was hostess at an informal dance at her home on Oxford Drive Tuesday evening for Mrs. Miles and Miss Miles.

Mrs. Paul Baker will be hostess at a luncheon today in honor of these attractive visitors. They will return to their home in New York Thursday.

Bateman-Shaw Wedding Takes Place at Home.

An interesting event of the past week was the marriage of Mrs. Anna Bateman to Phillip Shaw, which was solemnized at the home of Mrs. William A. Lowery.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE PRIDE THAT PRETENDS

People are sure to laugh at the naive pride of the newly prosperous who go about boasting of their prosperity and telling you, either directly or by carefully managed implication, how much their fine new possessions cost.

I once took dinner at a house where our host told us the price of practically every large piece of furniture in his new house. He took us about from room to room displaying the grand piano, the electric range, the mahogany set with tulip wood inlay saying: "that set us back $350. What do you think they soaked us for that range, $250—pretty good for a kitchen stove, eh?" and so on.

It was very funny. It was hard not to show a flicker of amusement. But Fools No One.

But the other day I heard of a display of pride in property that was even more amusing. The man's pride was naive and frank, it didn't try to hide itself. His of which I am about to write was the opposite, it was the pride that apes humility—but does it so badly that it deceives no one.

The woman who displayed it is a young woman who had the delightful—but usually unsettling—experience of climbing from comparative poverty to comparative wealth in a few years. In school she had traveled with a crowd of girls whose families were in better circumstances than her own. But she made the best match (financially) of the crowd and now she has more than any of them—a house that is almost a mansion, a luxurious car, a chauffeur, exquisite clothes.

I asked one of the old crowd if all this had turned her head. "Does she boast about her possessions?" I questioned.

She smiled an odd smile. "I don't know whether you'd call it boasting or not," she said. And then she told me this story:

An Astonishing Apology.

One of Amy's old friends who had married and gone away to live, was back for a visit. Amy invited her to spend the day and sent her car for her. When the car with Helen in it drew up in front of her door, Amy came out with elaborate graciousness to escort her in.

"I really think," she said, "that I should apologize for sending that shabby car for you but it's all we have just now."

"Why, it looks very magnificent to me," said Helen frankly. "I don't see anything shabby about it. How old is it?"

"My dear, it's almost a year," said Amy, "and those cheap cars don't stand up that long."

The car was a limousine costing between $4,000 and $5,000!

And She Drives a Flivver!

Next Amy rushed her guest into the splendid big living room of her home, saying: "Perhaps you'd rather sit on the porch, the rooms in this house are rather small and stuffy. We wanted a larger one but it was the best we could afford when we bought."

"And Amy knows," said Helen afterwards, "that I live in a little Dutch cottage and drive a three-year-old flivver!"

I said I had heard of a display of pride even more amusing than that of the man who told us the exact price

IT'S "ALL DRESSED UP" WITH SOMEWHERE TO GO

Well, it felt as if to be with us all summer they've got to be fussed up and made fit for presentation at social functions and one clever way of doing it is by draping a sun yellow felt with black chantilly.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Good for the System. Plan to have the fresh fruits on the table when they are in season. Substitute them in place of puddings and pastries for dessert.

Fire! Do not pull down the draperies that are on fire and thus spread the flames. Remove all objects nearby and with a wet broom smother the burning pieces as they fall.

Household Helps.

Allow just enough water to boil dry when boiling potatoes. One lighted gas jet is said to consume as much air as four adults.

A red hot iron will often putty so that it can be removed easily. Hot chicken sandwiches are delicious if served with hot giblet gravy.

A small strip of leather sewed on the inside of trouser cuffs will prevent the cloth from wearing out.

of his bedest. Was I wrong?

What puzzles me is how a girl of Amy's fine mind thinks she can get by with it.

Do the people who assume such a manner really think that it deceives or impresses anyone? Are they incapable of seeing how open to ridicule it makes them?

So riches do make ostriches of us all!

Tomorrow—Not So Vital.

The Constitution's Patterns

A CHIC AND CHARMING DESIGN

3801-3793—Here is a very popular variation of the jumper dress—and a pretty gumpe to wear with it. As portrayed, wool jersey embroidered in floss was used. The gumpe is of pongee with self frills and hemstitching for trimming of grograin ribbon would be pleasing.

The gumpe 3801 is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The dress 3793 is cut in 8 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. The width at the foot is about 2 yards. This style is good for slender as well as for mature figures. The dress front is cut with fullness beneath the yoke extension of the back. To make up this style for a 38 inch size, requires 2 5/8 yards of 36-inch material for the gumpe, and 3 3/8 yards for the dress, of 40-inch material. This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

A PLEASING DRESS

3794-3798—Softness and simplicity stamp this model as youthful and becoming. Crepe de chine trimmed with a picot edge and tiny roses and leaves of chiffon would make it very attractive. The roses could be in a color contrasting to that of the gown. The dress may be made sleeveless. With long sleeves one could have this in satin, taffeta or velvet, with trimming of embroidery or jet.

The waist pattern 3796 is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. The skirt 3798 in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches waist measure. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 yards. To make the dress for a medium size as illustrated in the large view will require 7 1/4 yards of 27-inch material.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

A DAINTY FROCK

4025. One of the season's pretty models is here portrayed. Convenient pockets are placed under the tab extensions of the waist, which has long lines and girde extensions which close over the back. White linen with frills and bows of organdy would be pleasing. Pongee in a natural shade with pipings of green crepe would be attractive.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size will require 4 1/8 yards of 40-inch material. The width at the foot is about 2 1/4 yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

To Avoid Shrinkage.

It is important when laundering wool to keep the temperature of the washing, water, the rinsing water and the drying-room the same. This will prevent shrinking.

Miss Corley Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Maurice Emmett Harkins entertained at luncheon at her home on North Howard street, Tuesday for Miss Corley, a bride-elect of July. A few close friends of Miss Corley were invited to meet her.

The exquisitely appointed luncheon table had for the central decoration, a silver bowl holding nasturtiums, and the other details were artistically carried out in yellow.

Mrs. McNeill to Appear in Pictures.

Mrs. Archibald McNeill, Jr., of Bridgeport, Conn., who was entertained in Atlanta during grand opera week, as the guest of Mrs. Walter G. Mitchell, will be featured in the movies at an early date. Mrs. McNeill will play the second leading part in "East is West," in which Norma Talmadge, her intimate friend, will be starred.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill own "El Munro," one of the handsomest homes at Palm Beach. She is personally most charming and an unusually beautiful woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are building a home at Palm Beach and will spend next winter at that famous resort where they are prominently identified with society.

Miss Burt Weds Mr. Brooke in Marietta.

Mrs. Jennie Burt, of Kennesaw, Ga., announces the marriage of her daughter, Georgia, to Byron Brooke, of Atlanta, on Monday afternoon, June 26, at Marietta, Ga., Rev. S. R. England, officiating.

Coffee Facts Worth Knowing

Widespread misinformation about Coffee is shown by the fact that dealers still offer "Mocha" or "Mocha and Java" for sale.

The port of Mocha long since filled up with silt and is not open to ocean-going vessels. We no longer get any Mocha in America.

The best varieties of Coffee that grew in Arabia and Java were transplanted in South America over a hundred years ago, and the finest Coffee we get comes from Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela or Central America. Three-fourths of it grows in Brazil.

The plant grows on uplands and mountain slopes from 1,000 to 4,000 feet above sea level. The finest quality matures at altitudes between 2,500 and 3,000 feet.

The quality of Coffee is affected by the process of picking, pulping and preparing for market. When ripe the berry resembles a ripe cherry, dark purple in color, and the bean or seed is covered with a delicious pulp which is taken off by machinery, with the use of much water. The thin envelope like an onion skin, which covers the bean, is taken off by hullers, and after several dryings the Coffee is ready for market.

The entire population of the Coffee plantation, old and young, assists in picking the berries, and sometimes partly ripe fruit is gathered with the ripe. That injures the quality, and so does carelessness in other processes.

Good Coffee is injured by bad roasting and carelessness or unskillful blending. Both are necessary to give it the fine flavor which characterizes the best coffee.

The degree of roasting and the manner of preparing Coffee for the table affect it seriously. Boiled Coffee, or Coffee over-brewed, full of tannic acid and overstrong in caffeine, is the kind that gives some people trouble. Drip Coffee, made quickly, by pouring over the grounds boiling water just taken off the fire, has a fine flavor, with little tannic acid and only a moderate quantity of caffeine.

To be sure of good Coffee, select a blend made by a reliable concern that knows good Coffee and has the experience, skill and equipment necessary to good blending.

ARTIFICIALLY WAVED HAIR

An extraordinary number of our readers want wavy hair and few of them have the opportunity for any sort of permanent hair waving process. It is so much quicker and easier to roll the hair around a hot iron or some of the patent curlers on the market!

These methods may be quick but they are always harmful. A hot iron dries the hair even when it does not scorch or burn it directly off. Metal curlers break the hair, and in many cases are more harmful than a scorching iron. The least harmful of all curling methods is the most old-fashioned—soft kid curlers, or bits of muslin rag, around which the hair is wound. This old-fashioned method has an old-fashioned disadvantage. It takes time to produce a curl, though this disadvantage is more than compensated for by the fact that the curl will be soft and natural-looking.

But even this method can be used too much. Continuously waved hair will not grow, short hairs with split dry ends and a general untidy appearance will inevitably result. To be healthy the hair must get plenty of rest and it cannot rest if it is constantly being pulled about and tortured into waves.

Besides all this, wavy hair is not universally becoming. Some faces are infinitely better when framed with a soft mass of perfectly straight hair. But the owners of these faces rarely agree. Of course there are times when a little wave is most desirable. Sometimes when the hair is recently washed and is still limp, when the hair is too oily or too dry to dress properly, a little waving will help. I only protest against its continuous use.

Constant Reader—A girl of 14 years wears her hair hanging over her shoulders in any simple fashion that is becoming to her style.

Fritz—To cause the hair to grow below the hair line, you should brush it in that direction and massage the part where you want this hair, using a good tonic several times each week with the massage.

An Off-Guard Moment.
Diana was secretly amazed at Cynthia's request, but she managed to conceal it under a matter of fact air.

"You really would like Steve to go away?"
Cynthia nodded. "Before Max returns it will distress him so, if he finds Mr. Dale here. It will re-awaken old memories, bring back all too poignantly the old life—Oh, Diana," she clasped Diana's arm.

WOMEN AND MEDICINE

In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the question of theories.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did them, and does now, relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.

to know why you'd rather Steve didn't stay here?"
Cynthia took Diana's face between her slim lovely hands.
"Then you will send him away. And you yourself will stay with us?"
Diana was a trifle taken aback. She had fully intended to return to civilization with Dale. She wondered what he would think if she sent him away; what Alex would think if she deliberately remained lost after having been found.

On second thoughts, she decided that it would probably look better to Alex and the rest of a conventional world if she didn't return with Dale. Vanishing in the company of one man and returning with another—neither of whom happened to be her husband—was a bit thick perhaps.

"Very well, Cynthia," she agreed, "Leave it to me. I don't quite know yet how I'll manage it, but I'll get Steve away somehow without it's looking too obvious."

Cynthia kissed her and looking infinitely relieved, set about clearing the luncheon table.

Diana walked thoughtfully out to the veranda, considered a moment, and then acting on sudden impulse, caught up a big sunhat of Cynthia's and craning it down on her coppery hair, set out across the garden to the road.

and there was an expression not good to see in his eyes.
"Are you going to tell me now where you got that, so that I—" "Not until you've assured me that it doesn't show," pouted Diana.

AUTO RACES AT LAKEWOOD

Practically all of the prominent automobile characters of Atlanta have signified their intention of entering the holiday races next Tuesday when Atlanta will celebrate the grand old Fourth.

In this, the greatest meet of the year for the local boys, they are planning to show the fans some of the best racing they have seen for a long time. All of the pilots are working on their machines now in order that they may be in perfect shape by the day of the races.

In a special feature event, Harry Glenn, in his famous Gilbert special, will tie up with Bob Lutton, who will drive his Essex special. This match in itself will doubtless draw a large crowd, for both of the drivers have a large following among the auto race enthusiasts throughout the entire state.

Lutton now holds the southern championship and Harry will endeavor to snatch his championship honors from him on the Fourth.

There will be five events on the motor card and Lutton and Glenn will both participate in the other events along with the other drivers as well as the match race. O. B. Wright has entered to drive his big Peerless mount and Louis Trotter will pilot his Cole.

Entries for the horse races are still coming in and it looks as though the fields for these races will be bigger than ever before for a one-day meeting.

There is now about forty harness horses at the track, and in addition about fifteen running horses, and all of them are in excellent shape. The horse racing will program calls for harness races and four running events.

With the eight horse races and five automobile events the afternoon will be completely full. There will be something doing every minute and the entire program promises to be unusually attractive.

VOLS AFTER NEW TALENT

Nashville, Tenn., June 27.—(Special.)—No news may be good news to some folks, but not to Prexy Sloan and Larry Doyle.

They sat up until a late hour last night awaiting the arrival of a messenger boy with replies to the several wires they had sent out for props to support the Vols' defense. Nothing came. They were unable to get in touch with Tate, the Milan, Tenn., semi-pro receiver and nothing came from Seattle in regard to the catcher who offered several days ago by that club. Nor were there any answers to a flood of new messages sent out yesterday morning. For the native mags are clamoring here, there and everywhere for help.

So far they have not been able to gather a reply even from the echo. Today the rejuvenated Vols, who are swarming around with four scamps attached to their belts, are idle. They have not baseball business before them, so far as John Martin is concerned. They depart tonight to invade Memphis, where Spence Abbott is making more motions towards another flag.

With a taste of victory again those Vols may fare better on their curtailed foreign sojourn than was the case in their late and lamented hostile tour. They have their skipper, Doyle, back in the ranks after being orphans for more than ten days. The home pilot was on the bench yesterday for the first time since he was stricken with a peri-tonitis, a blow down in New Orleans. His throat was responded to treatment of Dr. Gene Orr rapidly, although he is still too weak to get on the coaching lines.

If the planned changes are made to Vol ranks and the new hurlers from the Coast become acclimated to the Vols are yet likely to chamber to a higher perch. Of course Bob Morrow must have aid behind the bat, being alone there now, for an injury to him would leave the Vols utterly helpless.

Chief Werre is expected to recover soon from the severe bruise sustained on his right arm when Slim Clark raked him on the wing. Dr. Cleaves, who attended him, after he fell in a crumpled heap, writhing from the pain of the blow, said he should quickly recover. He appeared helpless with the stick, after being hurt, however, being barely able to lift the club.

Leonard Seems to Have Slipped; Two More Numbers on His Program

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, June 27.—The importance of these things is likely to be exaggerated, but a great many free and equal voters are finding it worth while to weigh in with the opinion that Benny Leonard won't be lightweight champion a great while longer. Benny's dance program is signed for two more numbers in the next thirty days with two of the most abusive rowdies of his weight, Rocky Kansas and Leftie Lewis Tandler, and he who gets slapped may be Benny himself.

The subways were still running, the papers were printing, the landlords were still profiting and the city of New York seemed to be functioning about as usual after the Britton-Leonard disturbance so maybe a battle of champions is no crucial thing in the progress of the world's affairs. It seems that a prize fight is, after all, just a sporting incident with minor economic aspects and that a treaty between powers or a ruler's signature on a declaration of war amounts to much more in the long run than the goings-on of any two half-naked business men within triple strands of hempen rope in one of Tex Rickard's numerous punch bowls. The fighters get more publicity and his sometimes gives them a momentary false emphasis in the story of national progress.

Therefore it is with a tone of apology and a sheepish sensation that the thousands of victims who paid to see a conclusive fight between Leonard and Britton, approach the subject of Leonard and Kansas. Leonard already has met the rock-ribbed roughneck from Buffalo in three contests aggregating 17 rounds. The first was a 10-rounder several seasons ago when Rocky wasn't a very able prize fighter, and Leonard was on his home turf. The next time, in Jersey City, they swooned into each other's arms at the first bell and hugged and mugged and petted for 12 long, tedious rounds like a freshman flapper and a varsity quarterback at a roadhouse dance. In their 15-rounder here last winter, Leonard took a hiding for seven rounds but sent Kansas bounding on the rug for a nine count in one of the later rounds and won the decision.

Fight at Michigan City. They fight in Michigan City, Ind., on July 4. Almost any kind of a fight can transpire in the citadel on the hoosier dunes, so if this is another one of those bug-me-rough pantomimes nobody need be surprised or alarmed. However, Rocky is still a nasty associate in a 24-foot compound and he may just up and boppy him off.

Although Kansas beat Tandler badly here last winter, the Philadelphia journalist—once ran a newstand—generally accounted the more proficient of the pair. The way he abused poor Bobby Barrett's diagram in the ring at the Phillies ball park a month ago was no decent thing for one man to do to another except in time of war and he makes no secret of his intention to follow the same line of work with Leonard.

By occult science and simple mathematics it has been ascertained that Leonard now is two years older than he was two years ago when he was at the height of his proficiency and with age he has not improved. He first began to show recession of form in the fight with Charley White, who knocked him out of the ring. Then Sailor Freedman gave him a hard fight who shouldn't have been allowed to. Kansas was the next to show him up and finally Jack Britton got an overnight pass from the sergeant of the old folks' home and made him look queer.

A great many people paused in their day's work here to say that the foul finish of the Britton-Leonard match was an inept bit of faking. At this there were protests from the pants, vests, ladies' ready-to-wear and gents' furnishings departments which wouldn't believe it of such a nice boy as Benny. But if it wasn't a fake it was a shame to waste Britton's superb shamming and Leonard's pretended indignation. They were worthy of a real fake.

Monroe, 6-0, 6-2; Reagan and Peel defeated Brooksher and Magee by default; Conway and Lagomarsino defeated Metz and Lockhart, 6-3, 6-4. Junior doubles (second round)—Peel and Regan defeated Lagomarsino and Conway, 6-1, 6-3.

TATE DEFEATS CARTERSVILLE

Cartersville, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—Tate came off the field here Tuesday afternoon victors over Cartersville, the score being 6 to 5. Tate put two runs across in the third, one in the fifth and three in the sixth. In the latter frame, McDorris, who played first base for the visitors, poled out a home run, bringing in Hammonds ahead of him. Jackson made another run in this inning for Tate.

Cartersville made two runs in the fifth inning when Vandigriff and Barnhart scored. Richard hit a long drive to center, but was caught at third, trying to stretch it for 3 bases. In seventh inning Vandigriff hit for one base stole second and came home when Barnhart hit a two-bagger. When Parie hit a bingle over third, Barnhart scored. Settle, in eighth, got on first by error, stole second. When Vandigriff hit drive by second base, Settle scored.

B. Morris, starting for locals, was replaced in sixth by J. Morris, who in ninth inning walked first man he let get on base.

Cochran, for visitors, was able to keep the five hits garnered off his delivery, well scattered, while his teammates were getting seven hits from the two Morris boys. Costly errors were made by both teams, while wrangling by both teams enlivened the contest. This is the third game of the series, two of them being won by the locals. Between 700 and 800 fans saw Tuesday afternoon's game here. Douglasville comes to Cartersville for first of three-game series. Locals go to Tule July 5 for first of three-game series.

A. P. BOYD LEADS IN INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLF

Garden City, L. I., June 27.—A. P. Boyd, of Chattanooga, representing Dartmouth college, turned in the low score of 77, leading the field in the first day's play of the intercollegiate golf championship here Tuesday. R. E. Knepper, of Sioux City, Ia., representing Princeton, had a score of 78. James O. Ward, of Kansas City, representing Williams college, had 81.

Eight colleges are participating: Princeton, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Williams, Dartmouth, Yale and Harvard.

FOURTH ROUND IN COLLEGIATE

Haverford, Pa., June 27.—Wray Brown and E. K. Kamm, the Washington university tennis stars of St. Louis, and Walter Wesbrook, of Michigan, the western conference champion, lived through the fourth round of the inter-collegiate singles Tuesday and followers of the tournament expect that from this trio will be drawn the man to play Philip Neer, of Leland-Stanford, the champion.

Brown won from Wheeler, of Yale, 7-9, 6-1, 6-4; Kamm beat Paul V. Green, southern California, 8-6, 6-3; Wesbrook beat W. E. Howe, Jr., Dartmouth, 6-2, 6-1, and Andrew Morgan, of Penn., defeated J. E. Howard, Princeton, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Kamm and Davies, of Stanford, partner of Neer, will fight it out in the fifth round Wednesday. Neer and Davies began the double tournament by defeating Williams, of Yale, and Blake, of Georgia Tech, 6-0, 6-4.

Tuning forks were invented in 1711 by John Shore, Handel's trumpeter.

STRIB-ABEL GO ON JULY 4

BY BOB GAMBLE.

Macon, Ga., June 27.—(Special.) Young Stribling is training for the Jake Abel fight on July 4, along different lines to preliminary sessions for other bouts. The youngsters have added daily sessions of tennis to the regular five-mile run each morning, finishing up at night with a stiff workout at the club. Scarcity of sparring partners in this vicinity has necessitated an offer from "Pa" Stribling of one dollar per round to any boxer who will spar with young Stribling. So far, no one has accepted the offer.

In the semi-final, also a ten-round fight, Kid Joiner, of Macon, has been matched with Phil Keith, of Birmingham. Joiner has fought six fights, never having a man to stay with him more than three rounds, all bouts having been knockouts for the Maconite. His latest being a hay-making wallop handed to Bill Mc-Gowan of Dublin in the second round of their scheduled eight-round fight here June 22.

Rebs Stribling also appears on the July 4 program, facing Bill Price, of Macon, a newcomer to the ring. Non-stop Wilson, of Milledgeville, and Jordan Sheppard meet in six rounds and Johnny White and Walter Jones, Macon boys, also do a six-round act, giving thirty-six rounds for the program.

A licensed referee of New Orleans will be engaged for the main go, according to statement by "Pa" Stribling, promoter for the American Legion, which is sponsoring the match.

A New Sport.

Milltown, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—The Sportsman club of Milltown has found a new amusement. One night recently a bunch of boys went down to Dame's pond, below Point on the edge of the Okefenokee swamp, alligator hunting, and brought back fifteen from two to six or seven feet long. A night or two later a party, headed by Sheriff E. Tucker, went down and succeeded in bagging 40, ranging from four to eight feet long.

CRIGUI WANTS CRACK AT FEATHERWEIGHTS

Paris, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eugene Crigui, French featherweight, wants to win the championship of Europe from Arthur Wynn, the Belgian, before going to the United States. Efforts have been under way to sign up Crigui for a bout with "Pepper" Martin in New York in July, but it now appears, from statements by Crigui's manager, that this affair will be held later in the summer.

Conway Will Coach.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 27.—Charles "Pep" Conway, captain of last year's football eleven at the University of the South, Sewanee, has signed a contract to coach McCallie School of Chattanooga, it was announced today. Conway succeeds William McCallie, who has been named football coach at University of Chattanooga.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert for United States Government

LESSON No. 80.

The Wireless Code and its Uses.

The wireless code may be readily learned by any one, with a little practice, and may be employed in a variety of ways for signaling purposes. The best way to learn it is to secure a small buzzer, dry cell and cheap telegraph key and make the dots and dashes over from memory after memorizing the letters. Progress will be more rapid if some interested friend will send on the buzzer while the signals are copied down on paper.

The code can be used for signals from an ordinary flashlight and considerable distance may be covered at night. This system is often employed by campers and has been employed by radio operators for signaling from a stranded ship to shore after the radio apparatus was out of commission.

The radiophone listener almost everywhere hears a certain amount of code going through the ether all the time and the ambitious one may secure greater usefulness from his set by learning the wireless code and interpreting the many broadcasts made in code.

The wireless code as universally used is made up of dots and dashes, the dash equal to the length of three dots.

A . . . B . . . C . . . D . . . E . . . F . . . G . . . H . . . I . . . J . . . K . . . L . . . M . . . N . . . O . . . P . . . Q . . . R . . . S . . . T . . . U . . . V . . . W . . . X . . . Y . . . Z . . .

The international signal for distress is . . . . . which is equivalent to "S O S" but the letters in themselves do not stand for any particular words.

The speed required for commercial operators is at least twenty words per minute (five letters to the word). Operators of amateur radiophones and telegraph stations are required to be able to copy at least ten words per minute or a little less than one character a second.

The regular wireless or continental code is used by the army and navy for flag signaling employing a signal flag. The dots are made on one side of the sender's body and the dashes on the other. The army also employs a system of signaling with field buzzers over barbed wire fences or other wires and a system of mirrors known as the heliograph, both of which are operated in the continental code.

Some of the characters of the wireless or continental code are the same as the characters of the Morse code used on the land telegraph systems. A holder of the highest grade of radio operator's license is required to have a knowledge of both codes. Many of the best commercial and government operators began as amateurs or as land telegraph operators, while the army and navy during the recent conflict would have been greatly handicapped if there had not been many American youths skilled in the use of the continental code through practice on amateur radio sets, who were called upon to operate the radio station on land, sea and in the air.

SOPRANO MAKES WIRELESS DEBUT

Riely Eakin Presented for First Time by Radio From WDAW With Howard Quartet.

Once in a while a soprano is found in Atlanta who has that wonderful roundness and fullness of tone which marks the singer as one who is well able to appear in advantage in the midst of sopranos who have attained big names through their singing. But it is only once in a while that this happens.

Such a singer, a dramatic soprano, was presented at 6 o'clock last evening when Riely Eakin made her radio debut through The Constitution radio service. She is taking a prominent role in the prologue being presented at the Howard theater this week under the direction of Enrico Leide.

CORN AND WHEAT PRICES ADVANCE

Chicago, June 27.—Disappointing

threshing returns from midwestern states together with enlarged export market demand had a decided bullish effect today on the wheat market. Prices closed strong, 2 1/4 to 3 1/8 higher, September 1.15-8@

1.15-2. Corn gained 8-10¢; soya 6-8¢; soya and provisions 2-3¢ to 7-12¢.

Coupled with the adverse threshing returns was the fact that farmers resumed to offering new wheat apparently, recent declines having apparently carried prices too low to be any great incentive. Unusual absence of selling pressure led shorts early to anticipate an upward swing.

Active bidding on their part soon was accelerated by efforts of exporters to obtain both hard and red winter wheat

here and by competition from millers, with No. 2 grades commanding 1-4¢ premium for immediate delivery as compared with July.

Goosy, but little of the wheat taken in on May delivery here reported unsold tended further to encourage bullish sentiment. Besides, foreign exchange rates were firm, and reports of wheat and flour were bullish factors in the market for corn and oats. As in the case of wheat, offerings were light.

Higher quotations on hogs helped to lift the value of provisions.

COTTON PRICES RALLY AS JULY NOTICES ARE STOPPED

Less Favorable Crop
Advices Also Figure
In Decided Advances

New York, June 27.—Reports that unexpectedly heavy July notices were being promptly stopped and less favorable crop advices, caused a very sharp rally in the cotton market here this morning. October contracts sold up to 21.75, or 67 points net higher and 101 points above the low level of yesterday. As soon as the more active demand was supplied, however, the market turned over under realising by recent buyers or liquidation of contracts carried over to recent declines and October sold off to 21.15 in the late trading. The delivery closed at 21.25 with the general market closing steady at a net advance of 8 to 30 points.

The July notices were estimated at 125,000 bales, but there was a good demand for July from the start and the market opened firm at an advance of 8 to 28 points. It was reported that the two large spot firms issuing notices were buying July around the ring, while there was also a demand for the near month from other local and southern spot houses.

This led to reports that there was taking from stocks and the market advanced rapidly during the early trading, with July selling up to 21.54 and December to 21.59, or 59 to 68 points above yesterday's closing quotations.

Buying was promoted by a private crop report making the condition 70.9, the increase in acreage 8.1 per cent and the indicated yield 10,900,000, which compared bullishly with the report of the previous day.

Reports of scattering showers in the south also had a favorable influence while part of the buying was supposed to be based on a belief that the technical position had improved because of the recent decline.

The demand appeared to have been pretty well supplied before the end of the morning, however, and the afternoon market was easier under realising by recent buyers or renewed liquidation, selling back to within a few points of yesterday's closing figures on most active positions.

Port receipts for the day were 18,770 bales; U. S. port stock 757,698. Exports 15,417, making 5,642,436 so far this season.

New York, June 27.—Spot cotton steady; middling 21.75.

CLOSE AT GAINS
IN NEW ORLEANS

COTTON STATEMENT

Port Movement.

New Orleans, June 27.—Wide advance in the early trading in cotton today were well maintained, the market tapering off in the last part of the day and finally closing at net gains of but 6 to 12 points.

At the highest of the session the trading months were at net gains of 69 to 73 points, July at its best stood at 21.70 and closed at 21.10. At its lowest it sold at 21.05.

The main sustaining influence on the opening was the rain that fell overnight in the belt but 6 to 12 points.

Quick stopping of July spot and New York, calling for the tender of 150,000 bales according to reports that reached this market, soon became the dominating influence and it had all the more effect because it was understood that several local spot firms were among those who were stopping the market.

The Liverpool market was higher than due, which helped values here on the opening and additional steadyness was derived from a private bureau report on condition of the crop of 70.9 which, with an estimated increase in the acreage of 8.1 per cent, indicated a yield of 10,900,000 bales. In the late trading some of the selling was by early buyers but there was also fresh selling on an unfavorable opinion of labor conditions in this country and on expectations of favorable weekly crop reports from the government tomorrow.

FORM ASSOCIATION OF CREAMERY MEN

Vital problems affecting the future of the creamery business in Georgia and having a direct bearing on the farmers who recently have quit raising cotton and have gone into the dairy farming business on a large scale, would be solved to a great extent if the consumers of Georgia would insist on grocers furnishing them with Georgia-made butter, according to statements made by leading creamery men of the state, who met at the Cecil hotel Tuesday and formed the Georgia Creamerymen's association.

With a generally favorable sentiment developed among the farmers toward dairying and dairy farming, and with the movement to establish the creamery industry in Georgia on a firm basis having reached a real tangible condition, it would be a crying shame to have this constructive work torn down simply by the failure of the consuming public to support the industry as it should, it was stated by the speakers.

Georgia Butter Good.
It was pointed out that not more than 2 per cent of the butter consumed in Georgia is Georgia butter. It was shown further that Georgia butter is of a better quality than the butter shipped into the state, is now being sold at a cheaper price and that for no other reason than that of paying the best quality at the lowest price, the people should buy Georgia butter.

Will V. Zimmer, proprietor of the Belmont dairy, was elected president of the association. J. B. Bishop, of Ashburn, Ga., was elected vice president, and Frank W. Fitch, of Rome, secretary and treasurer.

President Zimmer, in a short talk at the afternoon session, outlined the situation existing now in Georgia. He told of how the Georgia creamery men co-operated with the state agricultural college and the railroads in developing the creamery industry. He said these agencies practically pledged to the farmer that all the butter produced in Georgia would be sold in Georgia at Chicago standard prices.

Mr. Zimmer said the creamery men have been living up to this promise despite the fact that they have lost money in doing so. He pointed out that in other states where the creamery industry is more firmly established, the prices paid the farmers have been cut below the Chicago standard. He said the creamery men do not want to take such a course as this in Georgia, as they are anxious to see the industry placed on a firm basis in this state and want to see the movement recently launched bear its full fruit. He said the one certain thing about the situation is that the industry can be placed on a firm basis if the tending public would insist on the grocer's on receiving butter made in Georgia.

"The Georgia butter is equal in every respect to the grade of butter being shipped into the state and in many cases is far better," he said. "If we could get the housewives of Georgia to insist on the butter that they get Georgia butter and if they would try this butter and compare it with the butter they have been buying, which was produced in other states, there would be no doubt about the Georgia butter receiving the preference."

Technical Difficulties.
Many technical details of the difficulties faced by the creamery men at this time were discussed and remedial plans were outlined. The association will take active steps toward obtaining operation of the Georgia butter, particularly in reference to the dairy farmers.

Figures were produced at the session Tuesday which showed that the growth of the creamery industry in the last few months has been marvelous and that prospects for further increases are exceptionally bright. The single exception of the failure of the home-consumer to buy the home product.

Committees named at the session Tuesday to handle the plan to bring about closer co-operation with the state agricultural college and the railroads in developing the creamery industry. He said these agencies practically pledged to the farmer that all the butter produced in Georgia would be sold in Georgia at Chicago standard prices.

Herrin Survivors, Back in Chicago, Tell Experiences

Chicago, June 27.—(By the Associated Press).—Men who successfully ran the gauntlet of bullets in the Herrin mine war and then eluded strike sympathizers who patrolled the roads near Herrin arrived here today. The refugees told their experiences to attorneys for the Southern Illinois Coal company and the evidence will be used by the company in suits it expects to bring against the United Mine Workers of America and in many cases is far better," he said. "If we could get the housewives of Georgia to insist on the butter that they get Georgia butter and if they would try this butter and compare it with the butter they have been buying, which was produced in other states, there would be no doubt about the Georgia butter receiving the preference."

President Zimmer, in a short talk at the afternoon session, outlined the situation existing now in Georgia. He told of how the Georgia creamery men co-operated with the state agricultural college and the railroads in developing the creamery industry. He said these agencies practically pledged to the farmer that all the butter produced in Georgia would be sold in Georgia at Chicago standard prices.

SIDNEY J. HAYLES COMPANY

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT
SCOPE OF SERVICES

THE SERVICES WE HAVE TO OFFER ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1.—ANALYTICAL AUDITS AND COMPILED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS. Believing that the executive needs more information from his accounts than merely reports of costs or loss, we are able to arrange or re-arrangement of your records, we can afford to give you a complete picture of your business. We will compile these figures for you either monthly or quarterly, rendering statements showing net profit or loss for the period under review, component parts which go to make up this result, and an analysis of the variation between this and prior periods.

2.—PREPARATION OF INCOME TAX RETURNS BY OUR TAX EXPERTS, who are fully conversant with the law as well as forms and methods required by the Income Tax Unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Whether your problem be Amortization of War-Time Equipment, Over-Depreciation of Invested Capital, the determination of Sound Values or other intricacies of the law, we are prepared to serve you. By means of our Washington office we are in a position to expedite the final disposition of all income tax matters.

3.—INSTALLATION OF COST SYSTEMS to fit your particular business. These costs "lie in" with the books and later with the inventories. Profit or loss figures can be obtained either monthly or quarterly. In conjunction with this cost system we review your methods of scheduling production, making such changes as may be decided are necessary to improve same.

4.—SURVEY OF BUSINESS. By this we mean an examination of the general condition of your business and methods of operation, with a view to submitting such comments, criticisms and recommendations as may be of benefit to you in the future handling of your business. Under this heading we analyze your statement of operations, directing material points into their component parts, detailing selling expenses, and analyzing all information which may show the strength or weakness of your particular business. At the same time we review your office routine, method of credits, classification of accounts, factory sanitation, production system, employment records, etc., as well as all other departments in connection with your business.

5.—INSTALLATION OF GENERAL ACCOUNTING SYSTEM, including that of complete stock and equipment records. This covers installation of new systems as well as the improvement of existing systems where necessary.

6.—SPECIAL ACCOUNTING INVESTIGATION. This covers the examination of any particular feature of your business, and the compilation of such special information from your records as may be desired.

7.—BUDGET SYSTEM. A complete Budget System serves to control production, sales, purchases and finances by means of schedules, estimates, etc. We advocate strongly the installation of a Budget System based on estimated sales for the ensuing period, and the compilation of actuals and statements of operations can be compiled in advance, and if the result, which can reasonably be expected, is not satisfactory, steps can be taken to change your policy in advance, and thus avoid a possible loss.

If you are interested in securing any of the above services, call, write or phone our offices.

TOBACCO MEN MEET IN RICHMOND JUNE 29

Richmond, Va., June 27.—Every tobacco industry, with the exception of cigarette-makers, from Kentucky, Ohio, Virginia, North and South Carolina and New York, will be represented at the annual session which opens here June 29 of the Tobacco Association of the United States. It was announced today by T. M. Carrington of Richmond, president.

Among the speakers on the three day program are Colonel John H. Bruton, Wilson, N. C., and W. Holmes Davis, president of the foreign trade club, of Hampton Roads, Va.

The demands for tobacco in foreign countries, where approximately two-thirds of the association's output of the product is handled, and the tobacco situation in this country will be subjects for discussion, President Carrington declared.

EIGHT MEN KILLED IN QUARRY BLAST

Knoxville, Tenn., June 27.—Eight men were killed and ten injured, several of them seriously in an explosion early this afternoon at the plant of the Holston Quarry company, at Strawberry Plains, 13 miles east of this place.

The perils of the anarctic regions are the most humdrum of all the bird family, walking upright and living in communities, quite unafraid of man.

THEATERS
Fourth Theater—All week, French plays in "Polly With a Past."
Low's Grand (Vaudeville and Picture)—See advertising for program.
Howard Theater—All week, "I Am the Law" and other screen features.

"Polly With a Past."
(At the Fourth.)
The Forsyth Players since their introduction to Atlanta have often been described as one of the stellar stock organizations of the United States, and now with the addition of Minna Gombell and John Little, the legitimate Broadway stars, it more firmly retains its place as one of the ranking stock organizations of America.

John Little is slated to be a matinee idol from now on. He has looks, figure and grace of acting. "Polly With a Past" is not the naughty play that the name implies, but simply a spicy, rapid-fire farce comedy that sends one away from the theater with a smile and a sense of satisfaction.

Loew Vaudeville.
(At the Grand.)
A very pleasing musical combination, violin and orchestra, is presented today and tonight at Loew's Grand theater for the last times by Nalo and Rizzo. The two young men are descendants of the Latin race, and show by their excellent work their love of music. Their repertoire embraces everything from classical to syncopated music, and is one of the applause hits of the program.

Tojetti and Bennett have a most pretentious dance revue, in which too and whirlwind dancing is featured. Mlle. Tojetti is an accomplished dancer who shows by her grace and agility her complete mastery of the art.

Blackface comedian Jimmy Cooper, blackface comedian Antoinette Crawford and company, in a one-act comedy.

"The Ruling Passion."
(At the Metropolitan.)
Not in many months has any picture drawn more widespread and favorable comment than "The Ruling Passion," the Earl Derr Biggers story, in which George Arliss is appearing at the Metropolitan theater.

In "The Ruling Passion," Mr. Arliss has two roles. In a magnificent country home, at night, he is the retired millionaire, in every way living up to the requirements of his station in life. During the day, he is an automobile mechanic laboring in overalls, in a small garage. He is "James Alden" at night, and "John Grant" by day. It is not a dual role, but two separate characterizations.

Washington, June 27.—President Harding's signature was all that was required tonight for authorizing the appropriation of $2,500,000 for new work on the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals. The army bill containing authority of congress to spend the money on that project, effective October 10 next, was passed today by the senate with a vote of 75 to 15.

During the final senate consideration, however, the measure at certain stages was threatened with being sent back to the house for further conference, Senator Harris, of Nebraska, chairman of the agricultural committee, moving that the senate disagree, declaring that if it prevailed the bill would be returned to the house and the appropriation probably would be jeopardized in that procedure.

Others, including Senators Glass, democrat, Virginia; Hefflin, democrat, Alabama; and Smith, democrat, South Carolina, supported Senator Underwood in requesting concurrence in the house amendment in order to make the appropriation certain. Senator Underwood recalled past occurrences where differences between the senate and house had resulted disastrously to Muscle Shoals' appropriation and poose to have "Mr. and Mrs. Walker" go to the police station as witnesses.

"Mr. Walker," however, offered the detective the $900 to let the case drop, he said. That aroused Tugler's suspicions and he insisted that the two go with him. At the police station Lieutenant Scott recalled that the fugitive Blackwell was reported to have had nine $100 bills. He summoned Detective Ed Cason, who had been working on the case. After a few minutes of cross examination by Detective Cason, "Mr. Walker" admitted that he was Blackwell. When he did the young woman went into hysterics.

Blackwell and the girl are held on blanket charges of suspicion for federal officers. The negro is held under $3,000 bond. No charges were made against the young woman last night.

SOULE TO CONSIDER WYOMING OFFER

Head of Georgia Agricultural College Offered Presidency of University of Wyoming.

Athens, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, has been asked if he will consider the position of president of the University of Wyoming, and has replied in the affirmative. It became known here this afternoon.

The letter to Dr. Soule, from the chairman of the board of trustees of the Wyoming college, in part reads: "The University of Wyoming is in need of a president. Your name has been suggested to us by Dr. Wilber, of Stanford university. Will you consider the proposition?"

The letter did not contain an offer but rather stated to Dr. Soule that if he would consider the offer, the board would advise him immediately with reference to the finances, both of the college and of the position.

Dr. Soule has replied to the chairman of the trustees that he is open to offers, he told newspaper men.

The Dr. Wilber referred to in the letter is president of the well-known California university mentioned.

Within the past few years, it will be remembered, Dr. Soule has received many lucrative offers to leave Georgia to assume leadership of other great universities, but so far the Georgia college has been successful in holding him.

poose to have "Mr. and Mrs. Walker" go to the police station as witnesses.

"Mr. Walker," however, offered the detective the $900 to let the case drop, he said. That aroused Tugler's suspicions and he insisted that the two go with him. At the police station Lieutenant Scott recalled that the fugitive Blackwell was reported to have had nine $100 bills. He summoned Detective Ed Cason, who had been working on the case. After a few minutes of cross examination by Detective Cason, "Mr. Walker" admitted that he was Blackwell. When he did the young woman went into hysterics.

Blackwell and the girl are held on blanket charges of suspicion for federal officers. The negro is held under $3,000 bond. No charges were made against the young woman last night.
